BioHorizon

1st Bioeconomy Stakeholder Workshop

A long-term strategic approach to agricultural research in Europe

- national snapshots -

26th January 2016, 14:00h-17:00h

Room "JENKINS", Charlemagne building, Brussels (BE)

Objectives:

1) to provide Bio-NCPs with inside knowledge on EC and SCAR activities affecting short and longer-term programming of research and innovation activities in the field of SC2 and KET-B;

2) to present overviews and sharing experiences on the implementation of national research and innovation strategies related to this sector.

14:00	Opening and welcome session Bozena Podlaska (IPPT-PAN, BioHorizon coordinator) & Alexia Rouby (European Commission, DG AGRI)
14:10	Overview of the strategic approach to EU agricultural research and innovation and questions regarding its implementation Alexia Rouby*, European Commission DG AGRI*
14:30	The role of the SCAR in programming of research and Innovation activities Eric Regouin, MinEZ, NL
15:00	Networking coffee break
15:30	Round table: Showcasing examples of national research and innovation strategies Moderators: Maria João Fernandes & Serena Borgna (BioHorizon) Participants: Stefano Bisoffi (CREA, IT), João Lima (INIAV, PT), Lidia Sas –Paszt (InHort, PL), Külli Kaare (Agri, EE)
16:30	Discussion Contrasting strategies for efficient implementation of national R&I strategies; The role of NCPs in the implementation of national and European strategies: current scenario and ideas for the future.
17:00	Closing remarks

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under Grant Agreement No652637