Experts in Smart Systems Integration invited to register to the EC database

Register to the database of independent experts for European research and innovation!
The first call for proposals under Horizon 2020 in the area of Smart Systems Integration is open until 23 April 2014.

The call identifier is 'ICT-02-2014: Smart System Integration' and the Work Programme can be accessed under the participant portal. [1]Should you have the appropriate expertise and interest to assist us in the evaluation, selection and monitoring process, please register [2] as timely as possible to the database of independent experts for European research and innovation.

If you already have registered during FP7, please log-in to the participant portal, indicate Horizon 2020 as programme for which your candidature should be considered and update your profile. In both cases, we advise you to make your candidature visible to Member States and Joint Technology Initiatives as well.

More information on the registration procedure is available here [3].

Once you complete your registration, you can send an email with you candidature number (e.g. EX2014D123456) to cnect-smart-systems-call-2014@ec.europa.eu [4] mentioning "Candidate Expert Smart Systems call 2014" in the subject line.
