It carries out appropriate checks on the characteristics of products according to the national guidelines prepared in cooperation with market surveillance authorities. The competent authorities have to react and take the appropriate actions according to the Regulation (EC) No. 765/2008 or GPSD respectively.

The cooperation between different MSA and Customs Authority depends on the agreement between these particular two institutions.

3 Exchange of the information (RAPEX, ICSMS)

The exchange of information is executing at the international and national level.

First there are two systems for exchange of information in place: RAPEX and ICSMS. The contact point for the RAPEX system is the Market Inspectorate of RS which coordinates all other MSAs concerning exchange of information of dangerous products. The contact point has started with their work in the year 2004 by the implementation of GPSD and was continuing with the work with the implementation of the Regulation (EC) No 765/2008. Legal base for the establishment of the contact point for RAPEX is the national Regulation of exchange of information about measures taken concerning restriction of trading with the products, published in the Official Journal of the Republic of Slovenia. Beside the MSAs MEDT and the Customs Authority are included in the exchange of information within above mentioned national regulation.

The ICSMS system has been used in RS since 2007. Since the beginning Market Inspectorate was the most active user of the system. But during the year 2012 also the other competent inspection authorities has start to us the system. The contact point for the ICSMS system is MEDT.

In addition there are also other ways of cooperation in place between different MSAs and exchange information. MSAs are included in different forums such as different AdCo groups, and PROSAFE, joint actions (joint projects within the frame of EAHC) etc. Cooperation and exchange of information is carried out at the national level including cooperation with different stakeholders. The cooperation is organized within different groups such as the Advisory Board for Safety of Consumer Products, Board for Internal Market with subgroup of MSAs and other working groups in different sectors.
