SECTION 3: ACTIVITIES WITHIN THE NEW PROGRAMME FOR CULTURE
3.1a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Development of the professional skills of artists or other cultural professionals in an international context	To a great extent

3.1b Would you like to explain your response?
3.2a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: International networking for exchanging experience and practice (peer learning/peer coaching)	To a great extent
3.2b Would you like to explain your response?	The Chamber Orchestra of Europe (COE) is a not for profit foundation of which I am the General Manager and I am responding to this Consultation in that capacity. COE brings together the very best European Soloists and Principals from across Europe to perform together. They also take the opportunity to provide educational outreach activities and hold master classes in the venues across Europe where they perform. The musicians learn from each other and afterwards take this European level experience back to the country where they live and work. This cultural dialogue makes an enormous impact on the public.
3.3a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Interdisciplinary partnerships between arts institutions and business to foster the entrepreneurial skills of artists or cultural professionals working in an international context.	To a moderate extent
3.3b Would you like to explain your response?
3.4a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Creation of new works and performances by operators from different countries working together	To a great extent
3.4b Would you like to explain your response?
3.5a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Development of a space for experimentation, innovation and risk taking in the cultural sector	To a great extent
3.5b Would you like to explain your response?

3.6a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Development of innovative digital cultural content, digitisation and new digital distribution and exhibition platforms	To a moderate extent
3.6b Would you like to explain your response?
3.7a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Cultural activities promoting understanding of common European heritage	To a great extent
3.7b Would you like to explain your response?
3.8a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Incentives for artists performing or touring outside of their own country	To a great extent
3.8b Would you like to explain your response?
3.9a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Transnational exchange of artefacts or other works	To a moderate extent
3.9b Would you like to explain your response?
3.10a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Funding for cultural and creative companies/organisations that promote the development of artists and their works in different European countries specifically with a view to fostering cultural diversity	To a great extent
3.10b Would you like to explain your response?
3.11a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Support to enable artists and cultural operators to overcome barriers to transnational mobility (e.g. legal and administrative barriers)	To a great extent

3.11b Would you like to explain your response?	EU tax legislation needs to be further harmonised in order to avoid instances where individuals or groups are subject to double taxation on expenses as well as fees. There is much work to be done to harmonise the operation and application of E101/A1 forms across the EU.
3.12a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Translation of fiction into different languages	To a moderate extent
3.12b Would you like to explain your response?
3.13a To what extent should the grants for literary translation also allow other costs to be included, such as purchasing of rights, publication costs, translation of book summaries and other promotional activities	To a moderate extent
3.13b Would you like to explain your response?
3.14a To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: Festivals with a strong European dimension and visibility and featuring works and artists of European significance	To a great extent
3.14b Would you like to explain your response?
3.15a The EU already supports European prizes in the fields of contemporary architecture, cultural heritage, literature and pop music. To what extent is it important for the new programme to support the following activities: New European prizes in the field of culture	To a moderate extent
3.15b In which cultural sector(s) should new European prizes be supported?
3.15c Would you like to explain your response?
3.16a To what extent is it important for the Programme to support: media initiatives giving visibility to European cultural themes and projects	To a moderate extent
3.16b Would you like to explain your response?
3.17 Would you like to comment on the activities within the new Culture Programme?

SECTION 4: TYPES OF SUPPORT WITHIN THE NEW PROGRAMME FOR CULTURE
4.1 The Culture Programme currently supports co-operation partnerships between cultural operators (at a rate of 50%): Is 50% the most appropriate rate for EU co-financing of co-operation projects?	Yes
4.2 EU operating grants currently meet 80% of the running costs of selected European-level organisations (Ambassadors, Advocacy Networks, Structured dialogue platforms). Is 80% the most appropriate level for EU co-financing of European-level organisations?	Yes
4.3 EU operating grants currently provided to organisations in support of their running costs are subject to the principle of “degressivity”, i.e. they are reduced each year. To what extent does degressivity present a problem for cultural operators?	To a great extent
4.4 What problems does your organisation face as a result of degressivity?	There are considerable problems. The Chamber Orchestra of Europe (COE), as a truly European organisation, is not able to apply for national funding and operates wholly at European level. There is no support from government, national, regional or local or public bodies. National orchestras receive substantial public subvention to go on tour. COE, as a European Orchestra, requires significant support from its commercial partners and EU in order to compete in the marketplace. Concert fees (that are reducing) available from venues, festivals and other promoters do not cover COE costs (that are rising).
4.5 Could you suggest any further specific ways to simplify the application process and the management of the new programme?	Application forms which reflect the need for support which do not require the duplication of provision of information and where time between application and decision is shorter.
4.6 How could the dissemination of the results of activities funded under the new programme be supported?
4.7 Would you like to add anything else on the types of support within the new Culture Programme?
