00:00:32	SOUNDBITE (Arabis) Hamadi JEBALI, Head of Government of Tunisia: "We are condemning one again the violence attacked on the American embassy in Tunisia, witch lead to people being grounded , and injured, and murdered. we have to learn lessons from this incident, all necessary legal measures are being taken in order to prosecute those whom are responsible for this attacks . These people will be broad to justice and measures to protect all diplomatic	00:01:29

protect all diplomatic missions and all embassies in Tunisia are taken. All those measures have been strengthened and in the future demonstrations will only be permitted as long as they do not prejudice in any way the rights and laws prevailing in our country. Ladies and gentlemen's, Tunisia is going through a crucial period of time at the moment, is going through a very important moment in its history , this is a stay which will have consequences for the entire Arab world . Now the people are facing very significant challenges affecting their future, the future of younger generations".
