On 19 November 2012, the European Commission organised a high-level conference on the progress made to ensure the resilience and stability of the European financial sector, to strengthen the single market and to boost growth. Erkki Liikanen, Chairman of the High-level Expert Group on reforming the structure of the EU banking sector, spoke during the third debate, which was held on the topic "Structural reform of the banking system". He presented the findings of the Expert Group.
