

Nobel Peace Prize 2012

Type: News Reference: 90917 Duration: 00:02:01 Lieu: Oslo, Norway
End production: 10/12/2012 First transmission: 10/12/2012

- general atmosphere during the ceremony - Vox pops

Only the original language version is authentic and it prevails in the event of its differing from the translated versions.

TIME	DESCRIPTION	DURATION
00:00:00	Title	00:00:00
00:00:00	SOUNDBITE (English):	00:00:05
00:00:05	Interior, screening of the ceremony in the cafeteria of the Nobel Peace Centre, Oslo, Norway, (3 shots)	00:00:15
00:00:20	Interior, cafeteria where of group of 'EU-phile' meet to see the ceremony, (2 shots)	00:00:10
00:00:30	SOUNDBITE (English): Jorn LEIN-MATHISEN; Spokesperson for Torchlight march for Nobel Prize 2012, chair of Brussels Alumni COMOF Norway: "I think that the European Union should go back to its roots and should focus on being a Peace project for the world. If it is only about technicalities tomorrow on that sort of thing that is necessary but one should still remember the vision of the founding father, I think it is a good thing that they are reminded of that, that they should work for peace, that's what the European Union is about."	00:00:30
00:01:00	1 cut away	00:00:05
00:01:05	SOUNDBITE (English): Jorn LEIN-MATHISEN; Spokesperson for Torchlight march for Nobel Prize 2012, chair of Brussels Alumni COMOF Norway: (reaction on watching the Nobel Peace ceremony) - "I think it is quite something it is almost as good as if Norway became a member country, there are big feelings, absolutely."	00:00:10
00:01:15	1 cut away	00:00:05

00:01:20	SOUNDBITE (English): Finn- LÜTZOW-HOLM MYRSTAD: (on the sceptical view by some parts of the Norwegian population) I think for Norwegians not being a member of the EU may the EU feels a bit far away and it is a bit strange for them, I think that people have not enough knowledge how it really works and about the compromises that Member states do and I think more knowledge which will happen with this Prize, there is much attention than there had been before.	00:00:19
00:01:39	Interior, Press centre of the Nobel Peace Prize event in the Grand Hotel, Oslo, Norway (3 shots)	00:00:22
00:02:01	END	00:00:00

Audiovisual Services
European Commission
ec.europa.eu/avservices

Conditions of use