The Heads of State or Government of the European Union gathered in Brussels on 22 and 23 November 2012 for an extraordinary meeting of the European Council on the Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF) 2014-2020. Negotiations on the new budget were very tough, against the backdrop of economic crisis and high tensions between the Member States who wanted to reduce EU spending and the others in favour of the European Commission's proposal. Ahead of the European Council, Herman van Rompuy, President of the European Council, and José Manuel Barroso, President of the EC, had held bilateral meetings with several Member States to reach a compromise. The European Council meeting ended up without agreement. The Heads of State or Government decided to reconvene early in January 2013 to find an agreement.

00:04:55	Arrival of Elio Di Rupo, Belgian Prime Minister - SOUNDBITE (in DUTCH and FRENCH) on the EU budget, saying that Belgium and the EU need an ambitious budget with more solidarity between the Member States; Belgium wants active policies in the agricultural field, for transition regions and regions which are in trouble like Limburg; cutting spending would affect all these policies. - Round table with Herman van Rompuy and José Manuel Barroso (17 shots)	00:03:43

01:16:12	SOUNDBITE by Herman van Rompuy (in ENGLISH) saying that the European Council gives its President the mandate, together with the President of the European Commission, to continue the work and pursue consultations in the following weeks to find a consensus among the 27 Member States over the Union's Multiannual Financial Framework for the period 2014-2020; saying that the bilateral talks the previous day and the constructive discussion within the European Council show a sufficient degree of potential convergence to make an agreement possible at the beginning of 2013.	00:00:45
01:16:56	Cutaway of press	00:00:04
01:17:00	SOUNDBITE by José Manuel Barroso (in ENGLISH) saying that anything short of admitting that the talks have been extraordinarily complex and difficult would not reflect reality; at the same time it is true that those talks were constructive, but these are difficult and complex issues because they touch upon vital interests of our Union, of the Member States, of the citizens; Heads of State or Government and all the Members of the European Council now understand each other's positions better; from that point of view it was a real constructive debate; but the reality is that they are not yet at the point of reaching consensus and they need another round before concluding.	00:00:50
