00:00:13	Soundbite by Günther Oettinger (in ENGLISH): Russia is our most relevant partner exporting oil, coal and gas to the European Union markets and Ukraine is the most relevant transit partner. Today we organised a high level round table. My colleague Minister Eduard Stavytskyi from Kiev and me [managed] to integrate all the stakeholders we need, preparing decisions in 2013.	00:00:45

00:01:04	Soundbite by Günther Oettinger (in ENGLISH): I think now it is time to come to some decisions. As you know Ukraine is a member of energy community since 2011 and membership brings obligations and rights. It brings some common legal obligations, namely market-based obligations to [integrate] the Ukrainian gas market in our European gas market, with our energy packages with some structural obligations but it must be win-win effect. And let me say that by the end of this process it must be win-win-win effect.	00:01:07
