Dear Reader,

This is the 24th issue of the ECN Brief, which is a publication of the European Competition Network (ECN). The ECN is a network of the Member States' competition authorities (NCAs) and the European Commission (DG Competition). The ECN Brief aims to inform you about the activities of the ECN and its members and to reflect the richness of enforcement actions and advocacy in the Network. It focuses on news of major interest about EU competition law and policy.

This issue informs about the activities of EU competition authorities before the summer break: the reported enforcement actions cover a wide range of sectors such as music copyright management, medicines and insurance. On the side of the legislative, policy and advocacy activities, the Communication of the Commission on Ten Years of Antitrust Enforcement under Regulation 1/2003: Achievements and Future Perspectives, takes stock of the case practice of the ECN and sets out areas for action. The Commission notably aims to further strengthen the position and resources of NCAs and ensure that they have effective powers. This issue also announces the next European Competition Day which will take place in October in Rome.

More news about the activities of the ECN and its members will be published in October 2014. In the meantime, we wish you a nice summer and interesting reading!

Greece: Fines imposed on Undertakings active in Production and Distribution of Poultry Meat

On 2 July 2014, the Hellenic Competition Commission published a decision in which it found that, between 1996 and 2010, 13 undertakings active in the poultry-meat sector in Greece, as well as the sector's association, coordinated their behaviour to fix the selling prices of fresh and frozen poultry meat, per category of product and per distribution channel downstream (wholesalers, super-markets, butchers, rotisseries) and engaged in market-sharing by allocating customers, with a view to stabilizing their price-fixing agreements.

Italy: The Competition Authority issues Commitment Decision in Insurance Sector

On 20 May 2014, the Authority issued a decision making binding commitments made by major insurance companies to set aside the vertical restrictions, which could hinder the development of networks of brokers offering the services of several insurers. The Authority considers that this would foster rivalry between insurance companies and spur price competition in markets where competitive dynamics have long been sluggish.

European Commission fines Servier and five generic Companies for curbing Entry of cheaper Versions of cardiovascular Medicine

On 9 July 2014, the Commission imposed fines totalling € 427 696 508 on the French pharmaceutical company Servier and five producers of generic medicines – namely, Niche/Unichem, Matrix (now part of Mylan), Teva, Krka and Lupin – for concluding a series of deals all aimed at protecting Servier's bestselling blood pressure medicine, perindopril, from price competition by generics in the EU. Through a technology acquisition and a series of patent settlements with generic rivals, Servier implemented a strategy to exclude competitors and delay the entry of cheaper generic medicines to the detriment of public budgets and patients in breach of EU antitrust rules.
