

- Lithuania: Conference ‘Competition Enforcement: Trends and Case - Studies’ in Vilnius on 10 September 2014

On 10 September 2014, the Competition Council in partnership with Vilnius University will hold the 11th Baltic Competition Conference ‘Competition Enforcement: Trends and Case-Studies’.

The morning session will start with a keynote speech on ‘Competition Law Enforcement: Recent Trends’ which will be delivered by Richard Whish, Professor Emeritus at King’s College London, QC, and author of numerous publications on competition law.

The conference will be dedicated to three core themes:

- The importance of economic analysis when assessing vertical agreements;
- Competition enforcement in internet-based trade;
- The concept of a single economic unit in bid-rigging cases.

The panel sessions will include speeches by the following competition law experts:

- Dr Lauras Butkevičius, Associate Professor at the Faculty of Law, Vilnius University;
- John Davies, Head of Competition Division at OECD;
- Nils von Hinten-Reed, Managing Partner, CEG Europe, Economics Expert for the European Commission, national authorities, courts and arbitral panels on competition, damages and regulation, including T-mobile and Vivendi, Gazprom;
- Göran Karreskog, Head of the Cartels and Mergers Unit, Swedish Competition Authority;
- Dr Ioannis Kokkoris, Professor at the University of Reading, Executive Director of the Centre for Commercial Law and Financial Regulation;
- Dr Philip Marsden, Deputy Chairman, Competition and Markets Authority, London, Professor, Competition Law and Economics, College of Europe, Bruges;
- Dr Gintarė Surblytė, Senior Research Fellow, Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition.

A roundtable discussion between the heads of the competition authorities from Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Northern EU Member States will close the conference.
