

Dear all,

please find below my top comments:

- member states shouldn't be able to put in place specific provisions at national level.
- there should be on-line availability to support all initiatives
- it would be worth considering citizens of third countries to be given the opportunity to participate in citizens' initiatives (probably based on time spent in the EU?)

Best,

Martin Mikeska