Green Economy is said to be the "3d industrial revolution" with huge investments on eco-friendly products and alternative methods of production.

WE all need to get involved to literally save our planet! To this end, the European authorities should:

- 1) print and hand out to every european household newsprints (recycling of course) on enviromental issues.
- 2) promote the idea of "green economy" as obligatory course in schools/colleges.
- 3) enforce a law according to which automotive industries produce only Hubrid Cars.
- 4) promotion of eco-tourism through sponsored commercials, funds and related seminars for tour operators but also for holiday makers!
- 5) The European Gate <http://ec.europa.eu/> could introduce an energy safety mode like <http://blackle.com/> which is the alternative to <http://www.google.com/>
- 6) The "No Plastic Bags Initiative" promotes the idea of a no plastic bag society. Businesses, households, private institutions can be urged to use reusable paper bags with their displayed. One possible way to make them accept this innovation is by funding all bags needed. This can be achieved through funds and reallocation of tax revenues.

A united Europe predisposes unity with no exclusions. Therefore, vulnerable groups should be addressed in particular:

- 1) The European Gate may introduce a professional forum/portal where these people can find jobs according to their skills and needs.
- 2) Free mini laptops to people who need access to the internet but for any socioeconomic reasons they cannot do that.
- 3) Digitalised Cities, e-dialogos and online participation/voting through national and local portals means further inclusion to the information society.
