This website is managed by the European Commission's Directorate General for Communications Networks, Content & Technology [1] (DG Connect).

Communication Objectives

As the centrepiece of public communication strategy, the Digital Agenda webpages aim to realise or enable to:

- Inform people about the Digital Agenda and the activities of DG Connect [1], which manages it;
- Promote engagement with and among stakeholders [2];
- Create understanding and support for the Digital Agenda [3].

We use web analytics to track a number of indicators. You can see here how far we are in reaching these objectives [4].

How this site is organised

Each section brings together the latest news, funding opportunities, publications and more from the Digital Agenda Newsroom [5], and posts from the Digital Agenda Blog. [6] Projects from the relevant EC funding programmes are also featured. While there is one overall Digital Agenda Facebook page [7] and Twitter account [8], many sections also have their own voice on social media.

Contact

For any general purpose, have a look at contact details of the DG Connect [9]. For specific topics, most pages have a Contact link in the right column that sends a notification to the correct person.

Many Internet users can find websites difficult to use due to the way they have been designed. Please let us know [12], if, despite our efforts to make this website adhere to these guidelines, you come across a page which you find difficult to use.
