

Career Development Offices network

What can a network of career centres be?

...a tool for anticipating and matching skills

...a transparent online service on available graduates

...a multilingual geographic mapping between graduates and enterprise, a sustainable network for graduates mobility...

...skills forecast, a labour market monitor for higher education

...linked to EURES, PLOTEUS and EURAXESS portals

...a feed back tool for curriculum evaluation

...quality improvement of EU career service

who are the actors of the network?

University linked career centres & enterprises career centres mainly act on a regional and national level

...enterprises often act on a European and global level

...how does it work?

...all data needed are stored in various data basis in 1000`s of career centres all over Europe...

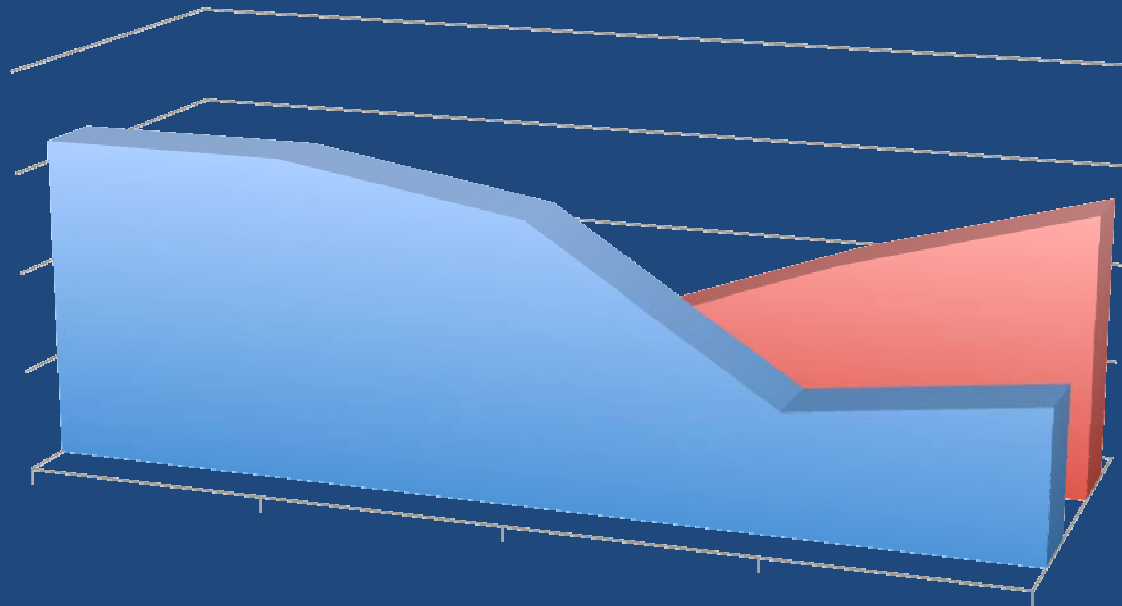

...career centres need to agree on data fields for mapping to a central data base, this agreement can only be achieved in a network...

what else can be done in such a network?

a European barometer of employment

Statistics on graduates and enterprise, tracking of graduates ...

information about needed qualification from enterprises would be available in real time (identification of new skills) → A stock market for human resources!

skills forecasts for policy making:

- could be established without using work intensive, low relevance and time consuming questionnaires
- but rather real federated figures from the career centres !

...Results would create better conditions for the career centres to improve their services

...Evaluation of University curricula

... Best practice successful career service models could be used as good practise examples for new established centres
