

Title of partnership:

WOP-P: Partnership on Work Organizational and Personnel Psychology Education

Masters Course running the Partnership:

WOP-P - Master on Work, Organizational and Personnel Psychology

Duration: 3 years

Summary description:

The Partnership on Work, Organizational and Personnel Psychology Education is an agreement between the five European Universities participating in the Consortium for the Master Erasmus Mundus is Work, Organizational and Personnel Psychology (WOP-P) Universitat de Valencia, Universitat de Barcelona, Université René Descartes Paris 5, Alma Mater Studiorum-Universita di Bologna, Universidade de Coimbra) and the Portland State University (Oregon, USA). The main objective of the partnership is the creation of an exchange structure that allows both institutions to improve the development of educational and research activities.

The partnership will be mainly centred on the exchange between students and scholars from both institutions to develop research, learning and/or teaching activities at the partner institution. Ten students and 3 scholars from the European Consortium will benefit yearly from an outgoing mobility grant. Grants will be distributed among the universities participating in the Consortium in an equal basis.

Students' mobility will allow to follow courses and research activities at the partner institution. Scholar mobility is oriented toward the development of teaching assignments and research collaboration with the partner institution. Students will be selected according to the amount of credits accomplished at the WOP-P program and the marks obtained. Scholars applying for a mobility grant will be selected by CV and the evaluation of the work plan presented. Language of exchange will be English.
