

CIAA (Confederation of the Food and Drink Industries of the EU) contribution to the consultation on the Raw Materials Initiative

POLICY AREA: DEFINING CRITICAL RAW MATERIALS

2. Do you see any additional raw material that should be considered as critical?
If so, please explain.

Currently, the Raw Material Initiative and, therefore, the assessment of the criticality of raw materials should not be extended to agricultural commodities as they are covered by other policies, such as the EU Common Agricultural Policy and the Energy policy.
