Nomination as an Ambassador	Melanie Grimm wants to share her know-how and experience with other women through coaching. This is her contribution to ensuring company culture in Germany becomes more feminine. Over the last years she has noticed that more and more of her clients are women in leading positions or women who want to start a business. Over the past 20 years she held down leading positions in national and international company environments as well as gaining experience as an independent business woman. She has witnessed at first-hand how hard it is to be accepted as a superior by former or older colleagues. Melanie Grimm was the leader of the human resources department in Germany's fourth largest tourism company. She had to prove herself again and again in this male-dominated environment. In the past she has coached many women who wanted to start their own business. She had to motivate them and make them clear how big their potential was as well as helping to leave a safe working environment. Her clients benefit from her professional skills she acquired through further education and training qualification. These include various psychological trainings, coach and consultant training and numerous additional qualifications.
About the company	As a business woman she has now been successfully leading her business for more than 10 years on her own. She sees herself as a guide through career and personal development for her clients. Under the label "impuls beraten &amp; begleiten" she coaches managers and employees in companies. With the concept of "BusinessKompetenz mit HerzIntelligenz®" she provides professional tools for communication and negotiation skills in conjunction with a science-based self-regulation technology for personal and professional effectiveness.
