Nomination as an Ambassador	Nathalie Schrock wants to show other women, that with courage, self-initiative and strong will, it is possible to build up a successful business even in a male dominated branch. With the help of “female skills” such as communication, sociability, and concern for others, women can connect themselves. This way, they can use all the advantages of networking in professional life. Women put new, modern, and fresh ideas into crafts work. They prove that they are able to build a successful company without big financial investments or a business family background. Nathalie Schrock is also an active member in a women’s business network in Stuttgart.
About the company	The company “Ideensprung” was founded in 2004. The company produces tailor-made furniture for people who love individuality. It offers upholstery solutions for all types of furniture – antique or modern. Ideas and designs are discussed and realised with the client.
