Your career

I was originally destined to take over the reins of the subsidiary of the bank that my father managed, but after becoming a company auditor and chartered accountant in Belgium I was eager to be more independent. I got the fantastic opportunity to develop the Luxembourg subsidiary of VGD and have now been with the company for 14 years. I participate actively in the international network of our organisation and I'm a member of the Women Leaders of Business in Luxembourg group.

Your motivations

I'm a company manager living in Flanders and combine work with family life and my involvement in business networking. My working experience and knowledge of entrepreneurship means that I have a lot of experience to share with young European women in local and international business. I aspire to give confidence to women and motivate them to start their own businesses and consequently see more active and dynamic women in our economy. Brief portrait : Chartered accountant and company auditor, after following legal training, she founded the firm VGD Luxembourg and has run the company for 14 years, while successfully balancing work and private life.

« Women have only one life. They must aspire to organise their time to create a balance between work and private life that ultimately leads to one and the same thing – a fulfilling and rewarding life. »
