

Anja Ivana Milic
architect

Sector Designing, Engineering, Construction

Region Belgrade, Serbia

Nomination as an Ambassador

Ms. Anja Ivana Milic is a business woman who has over 20 years of rich professional experience, and the last 10 years successfully works and operates within her private Company, in the field of construction industry and design. She is the winner of numerous awards in the field of architecture and construction industry.

She successfully overcomes all the challenges of the market, having the contemporary and innovative approach in establishing the organizations and procedures within the Company and recognizable attraction in the marketing approach. With her work and efforts she contributes to the development of the local community. She has a high level of communication, vision, initiation and the commitment to develop the idea of women's entrepreneurship.

Ms. Anja Ivana Milic is successful in her professional development as well as in the family life.

She has a great desire to transfer and share all the experience that she gained by developing her Company to all entrepreneurial women.

About the company

Arhi.pro is a middle-sized Company based in Southeast Europe, in Belgrade, the capital city of Serbia and since it has been founded, in year 2002, until presence, Arhi.pro became one of the top consulting, designing and execution Companies in the region, with two representative Branch Offices have been established in Montenegro and Macedonia.

With over 150 employees and expanding, Arhi.pro provide its Clients with a complete support and full design service in the field of construction, engineering, finishing craft works and building services, as well as design and production of furniture.

Raising awareness

She thinks that the experience that she gained, and skills that she developed, are necessary to share and transfer to all the women who have the creative energy and ambition to be self-initiated in their work, and to become female entrepreneurs.

To those who already are, she often offered several forms of association and support in performance at the market, since she believes that the final success is always in the joint driving forces.

As one of the founders of the ‘‘First Women Club’’, which was established under the sponsorship of the Belgrade Chamber of Commerce, in order to promote the professional development of women, she supports the idea of affirmation and development of women's professional and leadership potential at all levels.

Further information

More information about Arhipro can be found under: www.arhipro.com