Founder Charlotte Kruse Madsen is from Denmark. Educated at the École Hôtelière de Lausanne in Switzerland and trained at Ida Davidsen's in Copenhagen, she's worked at five-star hotels across Europe.

She founded the contract catering company Madsen Food in 2006, with the aim of bringing the Scandinavian food experience to London. The Madsen Restaurant sees a long-held dream of Charlotte's come to fruition: a modern Scandinavian eatery in the heart of London whilst inspiring would be entrepreneurs to go for it!
