

Public consultation - Update for units of measurement directive

Subject : Metric Only Labeling

I am just a regular American who wants to express his support for the Directive 80/181/EEC of 20 December 1979. This is a great step towards something that should have been done a long time ago, dropping dual units or measurements. I support this mainly because it can help the United States to finally get serious about converting to the international system of units of measurement or the SI. Please no more delays or extensions. Metric system is the way to go.
