

Romania

National winner

Emilia Chiscop

Emilia Chiscop works as a journalist for “Ziarul de Iasi” newspaper, where she heads the department for education, culture and social matters. She is also a member of the editorial board of “Cultural Supplement” magazine, a weekly publication of “Ziarul de Iasi”. She is a doctoral candidate at the A.D. Xenopol Institute of History, where she researches the history of the Romanian press. She has recently become a trainer for the Bucharest Independent Journalism Center for local press journalists. Emilia is a 2008-2009 Rosalynn Carter fellow for mental-health journalism. She was awarded the fellowship by the Carter Presidential Center in the USA for a project consisting of a series of articles, starting with a thorough analysis of the Romanian mental health system.

Original article: Drama si secretul unei doctorate

English translation: Moving tale of will and courage

National Jury – Romania

Chair:

Iulia Deutsch

Information and Communication Officer / Deputy Head of Representation – Representation of the European Commission in Romania

Radu Dop

MD. Vice President of the Romanian Medical Association, surgeon for 38 years, with an academic career of 16 years, this former President of the Romanian Social Development Foundation now focuses on social and NGO activities. Today his main objectives are dealing with change in the medical field and promoting e-health.

Georgeta Roman Neacsu

Georgeta Roman Neacsu has been working as a journalist for 11 years. After 2000, she started specialising in health issues. She has worked for the national press and television, and since 2005 has served as health editor for the national daily newspaper “Evenimentul Zilei”. Georgeta Roman Neacsu studied journalism at Bucharest University.

Monica Pop

Prof. Dr. Director, Ophthalmology Hospital, Bucharest

Ionela Croitorescu

Ionela Croitorescu has been working since 2008 as coordinating editor of „Adevărul Sănătate/Adevărul Health”, a weekly supplement to the daily newspaper „Adevărul”. Since early 2005, she has been working as a journalist specialised in health, having worked for two years for „Evenimentul zilei”, also a quality newspaper. Before that, she worked for one year as an editor for www.topsanatate.ro, one of the first online health publications. She has also participated in international and national workshops on tuberculosis, diabetes, immunology and psychiatry.

Kontakt:

Reprezentanța Comisiei Europene în România

Strada Jules Michelet nr. 18, sector 1, București

Telefon: (+ 40-21) 203.54.00

Fax: (+40-21) 316.88.08

E-mail: comm-rep-ro@ec.europa.eu