VINTAGE

Good health into older age

VINTAGE will build capacity at the European, country and local levels by providing the evidence base and collecting best practices to prevent the harmful use of alcohol amongst older people including the transition from work to retirement, and to invest in older people's health and well-being. Alcohol use disorders are common in older people, and with an ageing European population will increase in absolute numbers. Active sharing of best practice should upwardly harmonize policies and programmes to invest in older people's health and well-being.
