Dear Sir or Madam,

With reference to the Green Paper on the EU Workforce for Health, I would inform you of the situation in Italy, as follows.

- Health promotion and disease prevention vary considerably between Regions and indeed between Provinces. We would like to see moves towards uniformity in both areas.
- Managerial training for health personnel is neither codified nor standardised, and the Commission could have a major role to play in this area.
- Language tuition has a very low profile in university health curricula and is left to the individual institutions.

I hope that the above information is of use to you.

Yours faithfully,

Marilena Bertini
