The Chair requested participants to declare any conflict of interest regarding matters on the agenda.

This was not considered being a conflict of interest as this project relates to Improving Allergy Risk Assessment Strategy for new food proteins and the SCENIHR has not a mandate on this topic, therefore the interest is not specific. Moreover, the project is co-funded by the European Commission and it is considered of public interest.

It was reminded that these declarations have to be made orally at each plenary meeting and are noted on the minutes.

The major changes compared to the previous organisation of the Committees consist in the merge of SCHER and SCENIHR Committees to constitute the SCHEER (Scientific Committee on Health, Environmental and Emerging Risks), the abolition of the pool of advisors and the creation of a reserve list of members, the prolongation of the duration of the term (from 3 to 5 years) and the transposition of Commission Decision on expert groups rules concerning special allowances.

Members of the new Committees will be appointed by the Director General of the DG SANTE from a list of suitable candidates. Candidates not appointed as members will stay on the list as a reserve, to replace members who resign.

- Ongoing external evaluation of the Scientific Committees (2009-2014): The functioning of the scientific committees is to be evaluated in order to assess the value of their advice in the Commission decision-making process. This evaluation will also guide the services for the renewal of the mandate of the Scientific Committees in 2016 in support of the update of the Commission Decision. Members and experts may be contacted by the external contractor (Economisti Associati) managing the evaluation.

➤ Lessons learnt

At this point members were asked to share their suggestions based on experience gained during the term 2013-2016 concerning the functioning of the Scientific Committees. A set of questions was provided to help the reflection process. It consists of three parts:

- Brainstorming on positive, negative aspects and improvement needed.
- Specific questions mirroring those used in the evaluation on the Scientific Committees. In this way all members have the opportunity to contribute to the evaluation.
- Contributions concerning working methods which will be reflected in the Rules of Procedure.

The discussion will continue in the next two plenary meetings.

As an immediate action the SCENIHR decided to explore the possibility with SCHER to have a joint mandate on 'Guidance on the structure and content of opinions and statements'. A working group should be formed comprising members of both Committees.

The Memorandum on weight of evidence and uncertainties needs to be reviewed in the light of the new EFSA Guidance to better serve the needs of the future SCHEER committee. The SCENIHR decided to explore the possibility with SCHER to have a joint mandate. A working group should be formed comprising members of both Committees.
