

eNACSO II: European NGO Alliance for Child Safety Online II

Aims at developing a European network of children's NGOs with expertise on child internet safety to become the focal point representing civil society in relation to online child protection.

The project aims are to set up a thematic network of European non-government organizations representing children's rights, which will be the follow-up to the current Thematic network, eNACSO.

Objectives

1-To assess and make recommendations on current and future policy developments related to online child protection and safety both at a national, European and international level. 2-To develop and implement an 'agenda for action' which advocates for children's rights online. This includes targeted stakeholder engagement and influencing key decision makers at EU, National and International level. 3-To build a strong and thriving network by sharing experience and best practice, particularly in relation to advocacy, between network members. 4-To ensure that that children are involved and consulted on eNACSO's work.

The network consists of children's rights NGOs leading efforts on child internet safety from across the EU. It will share expertise and best practice on key policy areas related to child internet safety, developing concerted positions and approaches. On this basis, it will forge joint strategies for change, and promote its recommendations to national, European and international decision-makers and other relevant stakeholders, including in relation to the way the governance of the internet develops into the future. This innovative network will ensure a strong NGO voice at a trans-national level in relation to child internet safety, based on a solid children's rights framework. Complementing other Safer Internet Action Programme projects and networks, it will focus its efforts on ensuring that policies and strategies related to the internet take into account child protection needs. It will work to expand and consolidate the network to ensure NGO representation from a wide as possible coverage of the EU member states, as well as developing partnerships with NGOs and stakeholders guaranteeing a multiplier effect from other countries where appropriate. This will draw on existing links between members and pan-European networks of children's rights NGOs.

Expected results and impact

- A solid basis for ongoing, sustainable cooperation between European Union children's rights NGOs on child safety online beyond the end of the period of this project
- A shared basis of increased knowledge about how to protect children online and common approaches and strategies in relation to policies and
- Child protection and children's rights are better taken into account in national, European and international discussions and approaches around internet governance, cyber-crime and Internet and online security/safety.
