
FP7 – ICT Proposers Day
Congress Centrum Koelnmesse, Köln
1 February 2007

This information day is intended to help researchers that are interested in our call for proposals to meet other people having similar or complementary research interests, and to form project consortia, to understand the objectives of the work programme and to understand instruments, contracts, general rules for participation and the general working of the programme. Our primary objective is therefore to organise a networking day, where people can easily meet each other and for Commission Staff to be able to pass on further information concerning the challenges, each objective of the workprogramme, the rules of participation, and call submission procedure.

Agenda

Opening (Konrad Saal, Ground floor)
9:30 – 10:30

Chair: Dr. Sue Binns, European Commission, Director “Lisbon Strategy and Policies for the Information Society”

Prof. Dr. Andreas Pinkwart, Vice-Prime Minister of North-Rhine Westphalia and Minister of Innovation, Science, Research and Technology

Dr. Annette Schavan, German Federal Minister of Education and Research

Dr. Viviane Reding, European Commissioner for Information Society and Media

Proposers Day 10:30^[1]– 16:30

Parallel events:

- “Info Areas” for each of the Challenges + Future and Emerging Technology + Research Infrastructures including:
 - booths (or better “zones”) on the different “workprogramme objectives” allowing opportunities for networking and formation of consortia.
 - briefing area for presentations
- Booths on horizontal activities and general information
- At 11:00 and at 14:00 (Konrad Saal, Ground floor): Plenary sessions on “How to make a proposal”, including presentations on rules of participation, instruments, submission of proposals and evaluation procedures, etc ...

^[1] Facilities for networking etc will be available from 9h30