Europeana 2020 Strategic update

READ MAIN STRATEGY

Europeana 2020 Strategic update

It's three years since we launched our 2020 strategy. We're now at the halfway point; a good time to review our progress, refine and update our plans and make sure we're on course to meet our targets together.

Strategy refinement working group

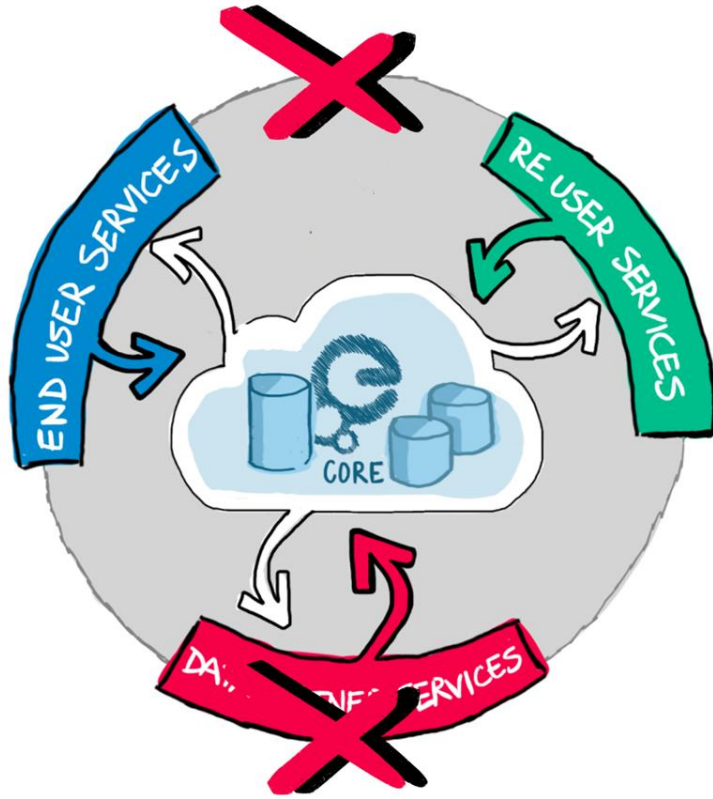

Europeana Strategy meeting
by Sebastiaan ter Burg

The Europeana Strategy 2020, which positions Europeana as a multi-sided platform that facilitates interaction between the content and the user, is still largely valid.

But a shift in emphasis is needed make us more effective in the execution.

PAIN POINTS

So what do we mean
in practice?

CHANGE PRIORITIES

MARKETS & PRODUCTS

1. Cultural Heritage Institutions

Note there are 3 components

Impact statement: “(in 2020) decision makers in Cultural Heritage Institutions (CHIs) feel rewarded as active participants in a culturally connected platform for Europe, built on the principles of openness, mutuality and trust. Being part of Europeana has both connected them with peers and helped them to make their collections available, in high quality, with standardised rights statements that allow re-use, to the general public and for use in education, research, and creative industries”

Cultural Heritage Institutions

Making it easier

Content strategy!

Publish and implementing the new content strategy: with an emphasis on quality over quantity, we will liaise closely with expert hubs and aggregators to proactively identify new collections and partners for publication in Europeana. Selection will be based on user demand, quality and richness of content (Europeana Publishing Framework tier compliance) and theme alignment.

Update the Europeana Publishing Framework: clarifying the technical requirements for video, audio and texts. In late 2017 we also aim to introduce a metadata quality component to the framework as the tiers are currently based solely on the presence and licensing of media.

Performance Indicators

Mix of qualitative and quantitative measures

Key performance indicators 2017:

- Establish the components of a Net Promoter score baseline
- 60% of participating CHI rate Europeana services 4 or higher on a Likert scale of 1-5
- Increase the percentage of Tier 3 and 4 material to at least 16% of the total

The Europeana Publishing Framework sets out four scenarios for sharing collections with Europeana

Last update: 15/03/2017

Europeana is evolving. Technology is ever improving. The future Europeana offers the inspired, creative or entrepreneurial the ability to take what our data partners provide and use it. For innovation. For education. For research. For business. For personal enjoyment.

The image shows the cover of the "Europeana Publishing Framework" document. It features a stylized, high-contrast illustration of a person's face in red and white. The Europeana logo is in the top right corner. The text on the cover reads: "THE MORE YOU GIVE THE MORE YOU GET" and "Europeana Publishing Framework". There are four numbered circles (1, 2, 3, 4) overlaid on the illustration, corresponding to the four scenarios mentioned in the text.

What is it?

A Transcribathon event is a competition where teams compete with each other to transcribe handwritten texts online with the online tool www.transcribathon.eu.

Each team works together on the transcription of a source document from Europeana 1914-1918 (for example a diary).

A jury awards points for the quantity and quality of the transcription and the presentation of the result, with a prize awarded to the winning team.

Gabrielle 'Coco' Chanel

BORN
 19 August 1883,
 Saumur, France

DIED
 10 January 1971,
 Paris, France

OCCUPATION
 Fashion Designer

Gabrielle "Coco" Chanel, 1920
 Hal Vaughan. Sleeping with the Enemy: Coco Chanel's Secret War. Random House (2011), p. 20

Gabrielle Bonheur Chanel (19 August 1883 – 10 January 1971) was a French fashion designer and founder of the Chanel brand. She is the only fashion designer listed on Time magazine's list of the 100 most influential people of the 20th century. Along with Paul Poiret, Chanel was credited with liberating women from the constraints of the "corseted silhouette" and popularizing the acceptance of a sporty, casual chic as the feminine standard in the post-World War I era. A prolific fashion creator, Chanel's influence extended beyond couture clothing. Her design aesthetic was related to jewelry, handbags, and fragrance.

Her signature scent, Chanel No. 5, has become an iconic product. Chanel was known for her lifelong determination, ambition, and energy which she applied to her professional and social life. She achieved both success as a businesswoman and social prominence thanks to the connections she made through her work. These included many artists and craftspeople to whom she became a patron. However, Chanel's choices which have generated controversy, particularly her actions as a Nazi agent during the German occupation of France in World War II.

Johannes Vermeer

BORN
 31 October 1632,
 Delft, Dutch Republic

DIED
 15 December 1675,
 Delft, Dutch Republic

OCCUPATION
 Painter

The Processess, 1656
 Johannes Vermeer. The only supposed portrait of Jan Vermeer.

Johannes, Jan or Jhan Vermeer (1632 – December 1675) was a Dutch painter who specialized in domestic interior scenes of middle-class life. Vermeer was a moderately successful provincial genre painter in his lifetime. He evidently was not wealthy, leaving his wife and children in debt at his death, perhaps because he produced relatively few paintings.

Vermeer worked slowly and with great care, and frequently used very expensive pigments. He is particularly renowned for his mastery of treatment and use of light in his work.

Vermeer painted mostly domestic interior scenes. "Almost all his paintings are apparently set in two smallish rooms in the house in Delft; they show the same furniture and decorations in various arrangements and they often portray the same people, mostly women."

He was recognized during his lifetime in Delft and The Hague, but his modest celebrity gave way to obscurity after his death. He was barely mentioned in Arnold Houbraken's major source book on 17th-century Dutch painting (Grand Theatre of Dutch Painters and Women Artists), and was thus omitted from subsequent surveys of Dutch art for nearly two centuries. In the 19th century, Vermeer was rediscovered by Gustav Friedrich Waagen and Thophile Thore-Bürger, who published an essay attributing 66 paintings to him, although only 34 paintings are universally attributed to him today. Since that time, Vermeer's reputation has grown, and he is now acknowledged as one of the greatest painters of the Dutch Golden Age.
