

“Together to create new growth”
“Social entrepreneurship & social economy: Developing a European ecosystem to unlock social innovation, growth and jobs”
Conference on 18 November 2011 – Brussels

Speaker: Sergio ARZENI

Sergio Arzeni is the Director of the Centre for Entrepreneurship, Small and Medium-sized Enterprises (SMEs) and Local Development of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) in Paris, France.

The Centre oversees the work of the Programme on Local Economic and Employment Development (LEED), the Working Party on SMEs and Entrepreneurship, the Tourism Committee, the Caribbean Rim SME and Local Development Initiative, the Modules on Women Entrepreneurship and Fostering Entrepreneurship in the OECD-MENA (Middle East and Northern Africa) Project and the OECD-LEED Trento Center for Local Development in Italy.

His work focuses mostly on entrepreneurship and innovation, including social entrepreneurship and social innovation, on job creation and social cohesion, on SME financing and internationalization, on business clusters and area-based approaches to economic development and community capacity building.

Mr. Arzeni has worked at the OECD for nearly 30 years as a senior economist publishing several reports and supervising a wide range of publications on the areas under his responsibility. He is also Senior Enterprise Fellow at the School of Entrepreneurship and Business, University of Essex, U.K.

Prior to joining the OECD, Mr. Arzeni served as an economist for the Italian Parliament, the Italian Trade Unions and the European Commission.

As an economic journalist he has contributed to several Italian and international newspapers.

He holds a First Class Honours Degree in Political Science from the University of Rome and specialised in Industrial Economics at the International University Institute of Luxembourg and in International Economic Relations at the Brookings Institution in Washington D.C., USA. He speaks French, Spanish, English, German and Italian.
