

Study on Children's involvement in judicial proceedings in the 28 Member States of the EU

This study collected all existing available data on children's involvement in civil, administrative and criminal proceedings. The primary aim was to collect data and, in order to be able to interpret the data, the study described the legislation and policy in place with regard to children's involvement in justice. A separate report was produced for each country for each of the three strands, using the Council of Europe Guidelines on child-friendly justice as a template. Other outputs include two EU Summaries: one for criminal justice and one for civil/administrative justice.

Given the volume of information collected, a short Policy brief was drawn up to make study results more accessible. The Policy brief summarises the results and includes recommendations for the European Commission and for EU Member States. The EU Summaries include very useful comparative tables.

- A Policy brief on children's involvement in administrative, civil and criminal judicial proceedings in the 28 Member States of the European Union summarises the results and includes recommendations for Member States
- Children's involvement in administrative judicial proceedings \(June 2015\) EU Summary and 29 country reports
- Children's involvement in civil judicial proceedings \(June 2015\) EU Summary and 29 country reports
- Children's involvement in criminal judicial proceedings \(June 2014\) EU Summary and 29 country reports
- Data and statistics