TITLE: -EU Roadmap for Referral Pathways on Early/Forced Marriage targeting frontline professionals

REQUESTED AMOUNT: EUR 328 193

PRIORITY: HARM

Contact details : eu.fem@uni-vechta.de

Project description: Objectives:

to obtain and integrate victim/expert feedback on an integrated, multiprofessional EU Roadmap for Referral Pathways on early or forced marriage or forced sexual relationships for frontline professionals throughout the EU.

to implement and evaluate the EU Roadmap with multisectoral actors (child protection system actors, health sector, law enforcement, education and childcare, justice, victim support services) in contact with victims or potential victims of harmful practices in 5 Member States (AT, DE, FR, PT, UK) to disseminate the EU Roadmap in the EU Member States via the project partners and in the European Region via the United Nations Population Fund network.

Activities:

Analysis and consultation on the EU Roadmap via victims/potential victims and national/EU experts (UNICEF, EU Plan Office, Equality Now, Eurochild)

Pilot the EU Roadmap in the 5 partner countries through multiprofessional focus groups, national expert interviews and face-to-face interviews with victims or potential victims

Implementation and evaluation of the EU Roadmap for 12 months in 5 support service organisations (1 per partner country) and dissemination of the Roadmap across the UNFPA network

Dissemination in EU and Eastern Europe/Central Asia to have a sustainable impact outside of EU borders

Type and number of persons benefiting from the project:

Victims and potential victims of early/forced marriage or forced sexual relationships who seek assistance from frontline professionals (number of persons cannot be predicted as few estimates exist of incidence)

Frontline multidisciplinary professionals in the partner countries (50 specialised professionals in total; 10 per country).

Genderbased violence/child rights advocates in Eastern European/Central Asia (200), country officers (200) and YPEER network(100) who have multiplier effects throughout Region.

Expected results:

Improved victim assistance for victims and potential victims of early or forced marriage or forced sexual relationships and their families, peers in the 5 project partner countries and in Europe/Central Asia through UNFPA

Improved knowledge of harmonised, best practice standards for referral pathways by frontline professionals, child protection/law enforcement/education/childcare/justice/health actors

Increased awareness of the applicability of the EU Roadmap of Referral Pathway on early/forced marriage throughout the gender focal points in the European Region via dissemination by UNFPA and through a wide range of nongovernmental organisations and voluntary organisations that are working directly with children at risk of forced marriage and/or its consequences.

Type and number of outputs to be produced:

1 Working paper of existing national guides on forced/early marriage; identification of gaps in English

5 multidisciplinary focus groups, 15 narrative interviews with victims, 15 expert interviews, 1 Guideline on focus group/interview methodology

1 Project website in English, 8 Social Media updates, 10 newspaper/magazine/blog in English or partner language

1 EU Roadmap for Referral Pathways, 50 pages on early/forced marriage/forced sexual relationships for frontline professionals in 5 languages (English, French, German, Portuguese, Russian) as programmatic tool for MS

1 Evaluation report, 30 pages in English of the implementation of the EU Roadmap in the 5 partner countries

5 national Dissemination Plans 10 pages each and 1 Dissemination Plan, 15 pages UNFPA activities

1 Awarenessraising report on rights of young victims and potential victims with regards to harmful practices to target youth via the YPEER network and written in collaboration with youth

1 Final project report to DG Justice in English

1 Public summary document of the project, 4 pages in English, French, German, Portuguese, Russian

Project description: Objectives

CHANGE Plus aims at raising awareness, changing attitudes and promoting behaviour change on Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) in practising African communities in four EU Member States (Germany, Netherlands, Portugal, France) through community assessment, capacity development/ mutual learning, exchange of good practices and the empowerment of community members.

Activities

Participatory research conducted in communities in Hamburg, behaviour change activities designed and assessed in communities in France, Portugal, and Hamburg

48 community members trained as CHANGE Agents , who implement 144 behaviour change activities

8 experienced community members trained as CHANGE Champions” who implement 48 activities, mentor CHANGE Agents, participate in local/national and EU advocacy events

project results disseminated to public, national stakeholders, EUstakeholders and decisionmakers

Type and number of persons benefiting from the project

56 community members benefit directly: 48 as CHANGE Agents, 8 as CHANGE Champions

min.1000 community members targeted by activities

min. 80 of participants at 16 local/national advocacy activities

min. 250 EU stakeholders benefit through communication and advocacy activities around 140.000 of women and girls at risk of FGM and those whoare affected, benefit through better knowledge, greater awareness and behaviour change leading to better prevention and support

Expected results

Individual project participants are empowered to act as catalysts of behaviour change (CHANGE Agents) community leaders (CHANGE Champions) are empowered to act as antiFGM advocates at the local/national/EU level.

African migrant communities, in particular girls/women at risk of FGM and those already affected, benefit from community assessment and evaluation, awareness raising, dialogue and implementation of behaviour change activities; pressure on families to continue FGM is reduced; community voices are better integrated into local / national level debates on the abandonment of FGM

Partners and other NGOs have better knowledge on strategies to promote abandonment of FGM in practising communities in the EU

Project description:1. Objectives

Improve knowledge, raise awareness and help change attitudes on Honour Related Violence (HRV) against women, ranging from forced marriage to so called "honour crimes".

Promote skills of social workers and law enforcement personnel regarding the detection, assessment and reporting/addressing HRV against women thus combat and prevent HRV practices.

Provide specific policy recommendations at national and EU level, thus engaging public authorities and policy makers with the aim of enhancing and upgrading antiHRV policies.

Promote awareness raising through the direct participation of relevant communities and stakeholders, incorporating direct participation of those communities, with a focus on engaging men (indicatively, White Ribbon UK is a partner), as well as community and religious leaders and/or victims from practising communities (also see Associate partners).

Encourage mutual learning and exchange of good practices between professionals and/or organizations, including public authorities, on the combat and prevention of HRV practices.

2. Activities

Investigate, map, and comparatively analyse current situation regarding HRV in the participating countries and the EU

Provide a scientific study of HRV against women

Develop a joint transnational short elearning training programme for social workers and law enforcement personnel, aiming at providing them with the skills required in order to effectively detect and address HRV practices.

Implement Awareness Raising Field Missions, conducted in collaboration with Associate partners and other stakeholders, thus actively involving relevant communities

Implement exchange of good practices through Mutual Learning

Raise awareness on HRV through Research workshops, Public Roundtables, Info Days, and an International Conference, the transnational “Honour Ambassadors” network as well as other dissemination activities

3. Type and number of persons benefiting from the project

Social workers and police officers (min. 1900)

Women experiencing or at risk of HRV (undefined)

Professionals and organizations working on gender equality/human rights issues and, especially on HRV, throughout Europe and beyond.

Policy makers at all levels in five EU countries

TITLE: -AFTER Against FGM/C Through Empowerment and Rejection

PRIORITY: HARM

Contact details : euprojects.ita@actionaid.org

Project description: The project deals with Female genital mutilation/cutting (FGM/C) which reflects a deep rooted inequality between the sexes and constitutes an extreme form of discrimination against girls and women. It stands out as a relevant form of violence against girls and it is a violation of women's human rights to life, dignity and health.

The core activities of the AFTER project are empowerment and sensitization activities directly targeting migrant women and girls and their communities living in the EU – including men and religious leaders – with the aim to mobilise them to reject FGM/C practices. This will be done by:

- 1) replicating in Europe effective participatory methodologies (Reflect-Action methodology) successfully implemented in communities in Africa and
- 2) involving women, girls, opinion makers and religious leaders coming directly from African communities in Europe so to witness how the FGM/C practice is becoming unpopular & banned also among many African people as well.

Project activities include:

Mobilise migrant women & girls living in the EU to reject and challenge FGM/C;

Mobilise migrant communities – in particular men and religious leaders to reject FGM/C;

Build alliances among migrant communities in the EU and communities in countries of origin to prevent and fight FGM/C;

Build a network of local administrators committed to take concrete actions to prevent FGM/C and to support FGM victims, also in terms of services offered;

Broadly disseminate information on existing social and healthcare services and protection measures related to FGM/C among migrant communities;

Sensitize a wider audience of European citizens on FGM/C.

The main target group of the project includes migrant women and girls from FGM/C affected communities living in the EU.

The overall expected result is that they will be more empowered and willing to reject FGM/C and to take action to change cultural behaviours and beliefs that tolerate FGM/C in their communities.

In particular women and girls after the completion of the project will have improved knowledge of their rights relating to women's sexual autonomy and bodily integrity and on the consequences of FGM/C on the lives of women and girls who undergo the practice. They will know more about existing international and national laws and policies aimed at protecting girls and women from harmful traditional practices and in particular FGM/C and about relevant support and protection services available in the country and city they live in.

Through testimonies and meetings with women, girls and religious leaders involved in FGM/C prevention programmes in Africa they will have increased awareness of success stories regarding women and girls' struggles to challenge and reject FGM/C.

Men and religious leaders from FGM/C affected communities living in the EU are also target groups of activities but not beneficiaries. After the completion of the project they will have increased awareness on women's rights, on the consequences of FGM/C and on the social, health and cultural services FGM victims or potential victims will require.

EU policy makers and national governments are target groups of dissemination activities. They will benefit from expected project results as they will have increased knowledge and tools on possible effective FGM/C prevention strategies and FGM supportive measures that include direct involvement of affected communities.

Outputs to be produced: Review Report; Mapping and Gapping Assessment; Database of local stakeholders, Champions for Change Network, a Twitter campaign, a RA revised method for immigrants living in northern countries, a training for the trainers (contents + materials), promotional materials for empowering paths, an FGM documentary, 10 videos etc.

TITLE: -Marry When You Are Ready

REQUESTED AMOUNT: EUR 243 639,91

PRIORITY: HARM

Contact details : europa@spes.lazio.it

Project description:1 . Objectives

The project addresses the problem of early marriage involving girls, aged between 9 and 15 years, in Roma communities in Romania, Bulgaria, Croatia, Austria, Italy. These are countries both of origin and where Roma live today, carrying on this patriarchal tradition of violence. Combined child marriage is a cultural tradition, aggravated by economic difficulties and social segregation. It prevents normal growth in a large number of girls who are deprived of the right to education, work, choice of partner and personal development. The psychological, physical and economic consequences are far reaching.

2 . Activities

The project lasts 18 months and has two workstreams: Community work, for awareness raising, and Recommendations and dissemination, to impact on policies.

Community work (15 months) – Common working method will be established through an exchange (initial staff training in Montenegro) with Associate Partners with expertise on the issue. The operators will organize meetings to raise awareness and provide information on the physical and psychological risks and economic impact arising from early marriage. Special focus is on rural and segregated areas. Both adults and community leaders are targeted, and children and youth, encouraging them to continue schooling. It is the start of a long path, that aims to trigger a change of cultural attitudes. The work is based on informal meetings, theatrical performances, movies and progressive role models. Experiences, materials and documents form the basis of evaluation and discussion among partners (meeting in Romania).

Recommendations and dissemination (8 months) Analyses and methods from Community Work will be processed into the Red Notebook, with practical and policy recommendations on European, national and local level. It is a call to action for eradication of child marriage, so far inexistent as issue in policies and strategies for Roma integration. Red Notebook with indications on how to frame legislation, policies and support, will be presented to policy makers and stakeholders in a conference in Bruxelles and in 5 national conferences.

3 . Type and number of persons benefitting from the project

The direct beneficiaries are Roma girls and their families and communities, 30 in 5 countries. At least 7.200 individuals will be engaged through direct contact. The other main target group are policy makers on European and national level of 5 countries. Indirect beneficiaries are stakeholders working with and for Roma communities inclusion: public institutions on local level, school and health authorities and workers, social services and mediators, NGOs working on Roma inclusion, media and general public, with focus on youth.

4 . Expected Results

- Obtain a new awareness in institutions and civil society organization at EU and national level, about the dimension and severity of the problem and the need to insert it as a transversal priority in Roma inclusion strategies.
- Initiate a cultural change in the attitude towards the forced child marriage, mainly within the Roma communities but also in general public.
- Forge a strong partnership of Roma women organizations with capacity to pursue this work as priority.
- Formulate practical and policy recommendations to address the problem.

5 . Type and number of outputs produced by the project

Website; social channels.

Staff training.

Methodological Toolkit.

At least 1250 community meetings.

Documentary archive; videos.

7 public theatre performances.

Evaluation meeting.

Publication "Red Notebook: Practical and Policy Recommendations..
