Proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

establishing for the period 2014 to 2020 the Rights and Citizenship Programme

(Text with EEA relevance)

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

As confirmed by the Stockholm Programme, the development of an area of freedom, security and justice remains a priority for the European Union. Although significant progress has already been achieved in this field with the entry into force of the Lisbon Treaty and the resulting binding character of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, the Union is still faced with many challenges such as the insufficient or inconsistent implementation of certain rights across the Union or a lack of awareness about certain Union legislation both by citizens and public authorities. Legislative and policy measures as well as their coherent implementation are key tools. Funding can contribute to the development of this area through supporting legislation and policy-making and promoting their implementation.

In accordance with the Communication on the EU Budget Review¹, a fresh look was taken at the existing funding instruments and delivery mechanisms to ensure clear focus on European added value and to cater for rationalisation and simplification of the funding mechanisms. In 'A Budget for Europe 2020'², the Commission identified the need for a simpler and more transparent budget to overcome the problems that arise from the complexity of programme structures and the existence of multiple programmes. The area of Rights was mentioned as an example of the existing fragmentation, where action should be taken.

Within this framework and aiming at simplification and rationalisation, the Rights and Citizenship Programme is the successor of three current programmes:

- Fundamental Rights and Citizenship,
- Daphne III,
- The Sections "Antidiscrimination and Diversity" and "Gender Equality" of the Programme for Employment and Social Solidarity (PROGRESS).

The merge of these programmes, all based on provisions outside Title V of Part III of the TFEU, will allow for a comprehensive funding approach in this area.

The general objective of this proposal is to contribute to the creation of an area, where the rights of persons, as enshrined in the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union and in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, are promoted and protected. In particular, this Programme should promote the rights deriving from European citizenship, the principles of non-discrimination and equality between women and men, the right to the protection of personal data, the rights of the child, the rights deriving from the Union consumer legislation and from the freedom to conduct a business in the internal market.

² Commission Staff Working Paper, A Budget for Europe 2020: the current system of funding, the challenges ahead, the results of stakeholders consultation and different options on the main horizontal and sectoral issues, SEC(2011) 868 final, Accompanying the Communication on A Budget for Europe 2020, COM(2011)500 final of 29.6.2011.

To be truly effective and bring about clear results for citizens and businesses, the rights need to be known by those who apply them, by those who advise people on their rights and by those who benefit from these rights, and be applied consistently and effectively across the Union. This can be achieved by supporting training and awareness-raising, strengthening networks and facilitating transnational cooperation. Moreover, the European Union needs to equip itself with a sound analytical basis to support policy-making and legislation in the rights and citizenship area.

2. RESULTS OF CONSULTATIONS WITH THE INTERESTED PARTIES AND IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

2.1. Consultation with the interested parties

A public stakeholder consultation on future funding activities in the area of Justice, Fundamental Rights and Equality for the period after 2013³ was launched on 20 April 2011. It was available online for two months and was open to all interested stakeholders and individuals. 187 respondents – with an important part of NGOs - from most Member States submitted their contribution.

The respondents evaluated positively the policy objectives of the programmes and confirmed the need for funding in the areas covered. The European added value was acknowledged and no area was identified where funding should be discontinued. The need for simplification and improvement was acknowledged and most of the proposed measures received a positive response, including the reduction of the number of programmes and the simplification of procedures.

The stakeholders were in favour of funding activities such as exchange of good practices, training of professionals, information and awareness raising activities, support to networks, studies etc. All types of activities which met with approval by the respondents are foreseen explicitly in Article 5 of the proposal. The respondents were in agreement with the Commission's proposals concerning the actors appropriate to receive funding and the types of funding mechanisms that could be used.

2.2. Impact Assessment

One impact assessment was carried out concerning the future funding activities for the whole area of justice, rights and equality, which currently comprises six programmes⁴. This impact assessment is relevant for both the proposal on the Justice Programme, as well as the proposal on the Rights and Citizenship Programme. The impact assessment builds on the interim evaluations of the current programmes⁵, which confirmed the overall effectiveness and efficiency of the programmes, but they also identified some shortcomings and room for improvement. The impact assessment has considered three options:

⁴ Civil Justice Programme (JCIV), the Criminal Justice Programme (JPEN), the Fundamental Rights and Citizenship Programme (FRC), the Daphne III Programme (DAP), the Drug Prevention and Information Programme (DPIP) and the sections "Antidiscrimination and Diversity" and "Gender Equality" of the Programme for Employment and Social Solidarity (PROGRESS).

⁵ Interim evaluation report on the results obtained from and the qualitative and quantitative aspects of the implementation of the Civil Justice financing programme, COM(2011)351 final of 15.06.2011; Interim evaluation report on the Criminal Justice Programme, COM(2011)255 final of 11.5.2011; Report on the interim evaluation of the Fundamental Rights and Citizenship Programme 2007 – 2013, COM(2011)249 final of 5.5.2011; Report on the interim evaluation of the Daphne III Programme 2007

Option A: to maintain six programmes and to address some of the identified problems through changes in the internal management of the programmes. Improving management and fostering strong synergies between the programmes would address some of the issues. However, the main cause of the problems, i.e. the multitude of programmes would not be directly addressed and consequently the improvements to be achieved by this option would be limited.

Option B: to maintain all measures of option A and additionally to merge the current six programmes into two programmes. This option would allow for flexibility in the use of funds and in addressing annual policy priorities. It would achieve increased simplification (both for the beneficiaries and the administration) and efficiency of the programmes, since significantly fewer procedures would be needed. The effectiveness of the programmes would also be improved as the fragmentation and dilution of funds would be addressed better within two programmes. Human resources could be freed, since fewer procedures would reduce the administrative burden and they would be allocated to activities improving the effectiveness of the programmes (dissemination of results, monitoring, providing information, etc).

Option C: to implement only one programme. This option addresses all problems caused by the multiple legal instruments and by the increased administrative burden of managing multiple programmes. However, due to legal constraints the scope of this programme would not be able to cover the funding needs of all policy areas. A choice would have to be made between the area of justice and the area of rights and citizenship. Although this solution can deliver maximum impact in terms of management, however it would not be possible to address sufficiently the policy priorities and needs of the whole policy area.

Resulting from the analysis and comparison of the options, the preferred option is the implementation of two programmes which would cover the funding needs of all policy areas (option B). In comparison to the status quo option B presents clear advantages and no disadvantage. Option A is not as beneficial as option B and option C only offers partial coverage of the policy areas, which renders this option unsuitable.

3. LEGAL ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSAL

The proposal is based on Articles 19(2), 21(2), 114, 168, 169 and 197 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union. The combination of these articles is necessary to continue supporting policies which are developed and implemented in the three current programmes, and is not meant to extend activities to new policy areas. The combination of more than one article is necessary in order to achieve the general objectives of the Programme in a comprehensive way and to adopt a simplified and more efficient approach to funding. The use of this set of articles provides the necessary legal basis for the proposed activities and therefore there is no necessity to make use of Article 352 TFEU.

Article 19(2) foresees the adoption of incentive measures to support Member State action in the area of combating discrimination based on sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation, including activities promoting equality between women and men and supporting the rights of the child.

Article 21(2) provides for Union measures to facilitate the exercise of citizens' rights to move and reside freely within the territory of the Member States. Actions aiming at informing citizens and authorities about the rights to diplomatic and consular protection and about their voting rights can also be covered by this Article as they are facilitating in practise the exercise of citizen's right to move.

Article 114 foresees the approximation of laws aimed at the establishment and functioning of the internal market. Article 169 foresees, in addition to the approximation of laws under Article 114, the adoption of measures to support, supplement and monitor policy of the Member States to protect the health safety and economic interest of consumers as well as promoting the right to information, education and to organise themselves in order to safeguard their interests. Both provisions can serve as a basis to fund activities related to consumer and contract law issues. A high level of consumer protection and the development of contract law to facilitate cross-border transactions create the necessary conditions to empower the Union citizens to exercise their rights across the border.

Article 168 foresees a high level of human health protection and Union action complementing national policies in preventing physical and mental illness and obviating sources of danger to physical and mental health. Violence against children constitutes a danger to the physical and mental health of the children, including often cross-border threats. Children are vulnerable citizens and need an increased level of protection against these dangers to their physical and mental health. Violence against women constitutes also a serious threat to the physical and mental health of victims, who are in need of a high level of protection.

Article 197 allows supporting Member States in implementing Union law by facilitating the exchange of information or supporting training schemes. This provision will be particularly important in areas such as fundamental rights, citizenship and data protection, where national authorities have an important role to play.

The funding activities proposed respect the principles of European added value and of subsidiarity. Funding from the Union budget concentrates on activities whose objectives cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States alone, where the Union intervention can bring additional value compared to action of Member States alone. Activities covered by this Regulation contribute to the effective application of the acquis by developing mutual trust between Member States, increasing cross-border cooperation and networking and achieving correct, coherent and consistent application of Union law across the Union. The European Union is in a better position than Member States to address cross-border situations and to provide a European platform for mutual learning. A sound analytical basis for the support and the development of policies will be supported. European Union intervention allows for these activities to be pursued consistently across the Union and brings economies of scale.

The proposal complies with the proportionality principle in that it does not go beyond the minimum required in order to achieve the stated objective at European level and what is necessary for that purpose.

4. BUDGETARY IMPLICATION

The financial envelope for the implementation of the Rights and Citizenship Programme for the period 1 January 2014 to 31 December 2020 shall amount to EUR 439 million (current prices).

5. MAIN ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSAL

The aim of the proposed approach is to combine the simplification of funding procedures, as requested by all involved parties, with a more result-oriented approach. The main elements of this approach are the following:

- The proposal defines the general and specific objectives pursued by the Programme (Articles 3 and 4) and the areas of action where the Programme will focus on (Article 5). The general and specific objectives define the scope of the programme (policy areas), whereas the types of action are funding-oriented, they are applicable to all policy areas concerned and define in a horizontal way the outputs that can be achieved by funding. At the same time, they define where funding can really be of added value for the achievement of the policy objectives. In implementing this Regulation the Commission will establish annually the funding priorities in the respective policy areas. The Programme can make use of all financial instruments foreseen in the Financial Regulation. The participation is open to all legal entities legally established in the Member States or in a third country participating in the Programme, with no further limitations to the access to the programme. This structure allows for simplification, as well as for better orientation of the programme to the policy needs and developments. Moreover, it provides a stable context for evaluation, as the specific objectives are directly linked to indicators for evaluation, which will remain consistent for the whole duration of the programme and will be monitored and evaluated regularly. It is proposed not to reserve specific amounts per policy area within the programme in order to achieve flexibility and to improve the implementation of the programme.

- The participation of third countries is limited to EEA, accession and candidate countries and potential candidates. Other third countries, notably countries where the European Neighbourhood Policy applies, may be associated to actions of the Programme, if this serves the purpose of these actions.

- The annual priorities of the programme will be defined in an annual work programme. Because this implies policy-driven choices, the adoption of the annual work programme is subject to the opinion of a Committee of Member States under the Advisory procedure.

- The Commission may use, on the basis of a cost-benefit analysis, an existing executive agency for the implementation of the programme, as provided for in Council Regulation (EC) No 58/2003 of 19 December 2002 laying down the statute for executive agencies to be entrusted with certain tasks in the management of Community programmes.

Proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

establishing for the period 2014 to 2020 the Rights and Citizenship Programme

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Articles 19(2), 21(2), 114, 168, 169 and 197 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national Parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee,

Having regard to the opinion of the Committee of the Regions,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) The European Union is founded on the principles of liberty, democracy, respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms and the rule of law, principles which are common to the Member States. Every citizen of the Union has the rights provided for in the Treaty. The Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, which with the entry into force of the Lisbon Treaty became legally binding across the Union, reflects the fundamental rights and freedoms to which persons are entitled in the Union. Those rights should be promoted and respected if they are to become a reality. The full enjoyment of those rights should be guaranteed and any obstacles should be dismantled.
- (2) The Stockholm Programme⁶ reaffirms the priority of developing an area of freedom, security and justice and specifies within its political priorities the achievement of a Europe of rights. Financing is identified as one of the important tools for the successful implementation of the Stockholm Programme's political priorities.

⁶ OJ C 115, 4.5.2010, p. 115.

- (3) Citizens should be able to exercise fully the rights deriving from the citizenship of the Union. They should be able to exercise their right to move and reside freely in the Union, their right to vote for and stand as a candidate in European Parliament and municipal elections, their right to consular protection and their right to petition the European Parliament. They should feel at ease about living, travelling and working in another Member State, trusting that their rights are protected, no matter where in the Union they happen to be.
- (4) Citizens and businesses should also benefit fully from the internal market. Consumers should be able to enjoy the rights deriving from the consumer legislation and businesses should be supported to exercise the freedom to conduct business in the internal market. The development of contract and consumer legislative instruments provides practical solutions for businesses and consumers to address cross-border problems, aiming to offer them more choices and to make it less costly for them to conclude contracts with partners in another Member State, while providing a high level of consumer protection.
- (5) Non-discrimination based on sex, racial or ethnic origin religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation and equality between women and men are values common to the Member States. Combating all forms of discrimination is an ongoing goal which requires coordinated action, including by the allocation of funding.
- (6) Pursuant to Articles 8 and 10 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, the Programme should support the mainstreaming of equality between women and men and anti-discrimination objectives in all its activities. Regular monitoring and evaluation should be carried out to assess the way in which gender equality and anti-discrimination issues are addressed in the Programme's activities.
- (7) Violence against women in all its forms constitutes a violation of fundamental rights and a serious health scourge. Such violence is present throughout the Union and coordinated action is necessary in order to address it. Taking action to combat violence against women contributes to the promotion of equality between women and men.
- (8) The Treaty requires the Union to promote the protection of the rights of the child pursuant to Article 3(3) of the Treaty on European Union, while combating discrimination. Children are vulnerable, in particular in a situation of poverty, social exclusion, disability or specific situations putting them at risk. Action should be taken to promote the rights of the child and contribute to the protection of children from harm and violence, which pose a danger to their physical or mental health.
- (9) Personal data should continue to be protected effectively in a context of constant technological development and globalisation. The Union's legal framework for data protection should be applied effectively and consistently within the European Union. To achieve this, the Union should be able to support the efforts of Member States to implement that legal framework.
- (10) The Communication from the Commission on Europe 2020⁷ sets out a strategy for smart, sustainable and inclusive growth. Supporting and promoting the rights of persons within the

Union, tackling discrimination and inequalities and promoting citizenship contribute to the promotion of the specific objectives and flagship initiatives of the Europe 2020 Strategy.

- (11) Experience of action at Union level has shown that achieving these objectives in practice calls for a combination of instruments, including legislation, policy initiatives and funding. Funding is an important tool complementing legislative measures. A funding programme should therefore be established. The Commission Communication on ‘A budget for Europe 2020’⁸ stresses the need for rationalisation and simplification of Union funding. Meaningful simplification and efficient management of funding can be achieved through the reduction in the number of programmes and rationalisation, simplification and harmonisation of funding rules and procedures.
- (12) In responding to the need for simplification and efficient management of funding, this Regulation establishes the Rights and Citizenship Programme to provide for the continuation and development of activities previously carried out on the basis of three programmes, established by Council Decision 2007/252/EC of 19 April 2007 establishing for the period 2007-2013 the specific programme ‘Fundamental rights and citizenship’ as part of the General Programme ‘Fundamental Rights and Justice’⁹; Decision No 779/2007/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 20 June 2007 establishing for the period 2007-2013 a specific programme to prevent and combat violence against children, young people and women and to protect victims and groups at risk (Daphne III programme) as part of the General Programme ‘Fundamental Rights and Justice’¹⁰; and the ‘gender equality’ and ‘antidiscrimination and diversity’ sections of Decision No 1672/2006/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 October 2006 establishing a Community Programme for Employment and Social Solidarity - Progress¹¹.
- (13) The Commission Communications ‘The EU Budget Review’¹² and ‘A budget for Europe 2020’ underline the importance of focusing funding on actions with clear European added value, i.e. where the Union intervention can bring additional value compared to action of Member States alone. Actions covered by this Regulation should contribute to the development of mutual trust between Member States, increasing cross-border cooperation and networking and achieving correct, coherent and consistent application of Union law. Funding activities should also contribute to achieving effective and better knowledge of Union law and policies by all those concerned and provide a sound analytical basis for the support and the development of Union legislation and policies. Union intervention allows for those actions to be pursued consistently across the Union and brings economies of scale. Moreover, the European Union is in a better position than Member States to address cross-border situations and to provide a European platform for mutual learning.
- (14) In order to implement the principle of sound financial management, this Regulation should provide for appropriate tools to assess its performance. To that end, it should define general and specific objectives. To measure the achievement of those specific objectives, a set of indicators should be established which should remain valid for the whole duration of the programme.

- (15) This Regulation lays down for the multiannual programme a financial envelope which is to constitute the prime reference, within the meaning of point 17 of the Interinstitutional Agreement of XX between the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission on cooperation in budgetary matters and on sound financial management, for the budgetary authority during the annual budgetary procedure.
- (16) This Regulation should be implemented in full compliance with Regulation (EU, Euratom) No XX/XX of XX on the financial rules applicable to the annual budget of the European Union. In particular, it should make use of simplification tools introduced by the latter. Moreover, the criteria for identifying actions to be supported should aim at allocating the financial resources available on actions generating the highest impact in relation to the policy objective pursued.
- (17) Implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission in respect of the adoption of annual work programmes. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2011, laying down the rules and general principles concerning mechanisms for control by Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers¹³. Given the annual amounts concerned, the budgetary implications can be considered as non-substantial. Therefore, the advisory procedure should apply.
- (18) In order to ensure efficient allocation of funds from the Union budget, consistency, complementarity and synergies should be sought between funding programmes supporting policy areas with close links to each other, in particular between the Programme and the Justice programme established by Regulation (EU) No XX/XX of XX¹⁴, the Europe for Citizens programme established by Regulation (EU) No XX/XX of XX¹⁵ and the programmes in the areas of home affairs; employment and social affairs; health and consumer protection; education, training, youth and sport; information society; enlargement, in particular the Instrument for Pre-accession Assistance¹⁶ and the funds operating under the Common Strategic Framework (CSF funds).
- (19) The financial interests of the Union should be protected through proportionate measures throughout the expenditure cycle, including the prevention, detection and investigation of irregularities, the recovery of funds lost, wrongly paid or incorrectly used and, where appropriate, penalties. The European Anti-fraud Office (OLAF) should be authorised to carry out on-the-spot checks and inspections on economic operators, in accordance with the procedures laid down in Regulation (Euratom, EC) No 2185/96¹⁷ with a view to establishing whether there has been fraud, corruption or any other illegal activity affecting the financial interests of the Union in connection with Union funding under the Programme.
- (20) Since the objective of this Regulation, namely to contribute to the creation of an area, where the rights of persons, as enshrined in the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union and the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, are promoted and protected, cannot be sufficiently achieved by Member States but can be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as referred to in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve that objective.

HAVE ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

Article 1
Establishment and duration of the Programme

1. This Regulation establishes the European Union Programme on Rights and Citizenship, hereinafter referred to as ‘the Programme’.
2. The Programme shall cover the period from 1 January 2014 to 31 December 2020.

Article 2
European added value

The Programme shall finance actions with European added value. To that effect, the Commission shall ensure that the actions selected for funding are intended to produce results with European added value and shall monitor whether European added value was actually achieved through the final results of the actions financed by the Programme.

Article 3
General objectives

The general objective of the Programme shall be to contribute to the creation of an area, where the rights of persons, as enshrined in the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union and the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, are promoted and protected.

Article 4
Specific objectives

1. To achieve the general objective set out in Article 3, the Programme shall have the following specific objectives:
 - (a) to contribute to enhancing the exercise of rights deriving from the citizenship of the Union;
 - (b) to promote the effective implementation of the principles of non discrimination on the grounds of sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation, including equality between women and men and the rights of persons with disabilities and of the elderly;
 - (c) to contribute to ensuring a high level of protection of personal data;
 - (d) to enhance the respect of the rights of the child;

- (e) to empower consumers and businesses to trade and purchase in trust within the internal market by enforcing the rights deriving from the Union consumer legislation and by supporting the freedom to conduct business in the internal market through cross-border transactions.
2. The indicators to measure the achievement of the objectives set out in paragraph 1 shall be, inter alia, the European perception of the respect, exercise and implementation of these rights and the number of complaints.

Article 5
Actions

1. With a view to pursuing the objectives set out in Article 3 and Article 4, the actions of the Programme shall focus on the following areas of action:
- (a) enhancing public awareness and knowledge of Union law and policies;
 - (b) supporting the implementation of Union law and policies in the Member States;
 - (c) promoting transnational cooperation and building up of mutual knowledge and mutual trust among all involved stakeholders;
 - (d) improving the knowledge and understanding of potential issues affecting the exercise of rights and principles guaranteed by the Treaty, the Charter of Fundamental Rights and secondary Union legislation with a view to ensuring evidence-based policy making and legislation.
2. The Programme shall finance inter alia the following types of actions:
- (a) Analytical activities, such as collection of data and statistics; development of common methodologies and, where appropriate, indicators or benchmarks; studies, researches, analyses and surveys; evaluations and impact assessments; elaboration and publication of guides, reports and educational material; monitoring and assessment of the transposition and application of Union legislation and of the implementation of Union policies; workshops, seminars, experts meetings, conferences;
 - (b) Training activities, such as staff exchanges, workshops, seminars, train-the-trainers events, development of online/other training modules;
 - (c) Mutual learning, cooperation, awareness raising and dissemination activities, such as identification of, and exchanges on, good practices, innovative approaches and experiences, organisation of peer review and mutual learning; organisation of conferences and seminars; organisation of awareness-raising and information campaigns, media campaigns and events, including corporate communication of the political priorities of the European Union; compilation and publication of materials to disseminate information as well as results of the Programme; development, operation and maintenance of systems and tools using information and communication technologies;

- (d) Support for main actors, such as support for Member States when implementing Union law and policies; support for key European level networks whose activities are linked to the implementation of the objectives of the Programme; networking among specialised bodies and organisations, national, regional and local authorities at European level; funding of experts' networks; funding of European level observatories.

Article 6
Participation

1. Access to the Programme shall be open to all public and/or private bodies and entities legally established in:
 - (a) Member States;
 - (b) EFTA countries which are party to the EEA Agreement, in accordance with the conditions laid down in the EEA Agreement;
 - (c) accession countries, candidate countries and potential candidates, in accordance with the general principles and the general terms and conditions laid down in the framework agreements concluded with them on their participation in Union programmes.
2. Public and/or private bodies and entities legally established in other third countries, notably countries where the European Neighbourhood Policy applies, may be associated to actions of the Programme, if this serves the purpose of these actions.
3. Under the Programme, the Commission may cooperate with the international organisations active in the areas covered by the Programme, such as the Council of Europe, the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) and the United Nations. Access to the Programme shall be open to those international organisations.

Article 7
Budget

1. The financial envelope for the implementation of the Programme shall be EUR 439 million.
2. The financial allocation of the Programme may also cover expenses pertaining to preparatory, monitoring, control, audit and evaluation activities which are required for the management of the Programme and the achievement of its objectives; in particular, studies, meetings of experts, information and communication actions, including corporate communication of the political priorities of the European Union, as far as they are related to the general objectives of this Regulation, expenses linked to IT networks focusing on information processing and exchange, together with all other technical and administrative assistance expenses incurred by the Commission for the management of the Programme.
3. The budgetary authority shall authorise the available annual appropriations within the limits established by Council Regulation (EU, Euratom) No XX/XX of XX laying down the multiannual financial framework for the years 2014-2020.

Article 8
Implementing measures

1. The Commission shall implement the Union financial support in accordance with the Regulation (EU, Euratom) No XX/XX of XX on the financial rules applicable to the annual budget of the European Union.
2. In order to implement the Programme, the Commission shall adopt annual work programmes in the form of implementing acts. Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the advisory procedure referred to in Article 9(2).
3. The annual work programmes shall set out the measures needed for their implementation, the priorities of calls for proposals and all other elements required by Regulation (EU, Euratom) No XX/XX of XX on the financial rules applicable to the annual budget of the European Union.

Article 9
Committee procedure

1. The Commission shall be assisted by a committee. That committee shall be a committee within the meaning of Regulation (EU) No 182/2011.
2. Where reference is made to this paragraph, Article 4 of Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 shall apply.

Article 10
Complementarity

1. The Commission, in cooperation with the Member States, shall ensure overall consistency and complementarity and synergies with other Union instruments, inter alia, with the Justice programme, the Europe for Citizens programme and with programmes in the areas of home affairs; employment and social affairs; health and consumer protection; education, training, youth and sport; information society; enlargement, in particular the Instrument for Pre-accession Assistance and the funds operating under the Common Strategic Framework (CSF funds).
2. The programme may share resources with other Union instruments, in particular the Justice programme, in order to implement actions meeting the objectives of both programmes. An action for which funding has been awarded from the Programme may also give rise to the award of funding from the Justice Programme, provided that the funding does not cover the same cost items.

Article 11
Protection of the financial interests of the Union

1. The Commission shall take appropriate measures ensuring that, when actions financed under this Regulation are implemented, the financial interests of the Union are protected by the application of preventive measures against fraud, corruption and any other illegal activities, by effective checks and, if irregularities are detected, by the recovery of the amounts wrongly paid and, where appropriate, by effective, proportionate and deterrent penalties.

2. The Commission or its representatives and the Court of Auditors shall have the power of audit, on the basis of documents and on-the-spot, over all grant beneficiaries, contractors and subcontractors who have received Union funds under the Programme.

The European Anti-fraud Office (OLAF) may carry out on-the-spot checks and inspections on economic operators concerned directly or indirectly by such funding in accordance with the procedures laid down in Regulation (Euratom, EC) No 2185/96 with a view to establishing whether there has been fraud, corruption or any other illegal activity affecting the financial interests of the Union in connection with a grant agreement or grant decision or a contract concerning Union funding.

Without prejudice to the first and second sub-paragraphs, cooperation agreements with third countries and international organisations and grant agreements and grant decisions and contracts resulting from the implementation of this Regulation shall expressly empower the Commission, the Court of Auditors and OLAF to conduct such audits, on-the-spot checks and inspections.

Article 12 Monitoring and evaluation

1. The Commission shall monitor the Programme regularly in order to follow the implementation of actions carried out under it in the areas of actions referred to in Article 5(1) and the achievement of the specific objectives referred to in Article 4. The monitoring shall also provide a means of assessing the way in which gender equality and anti-discrimination issues have been addressed across the programme's actions. Where relevant, indicators should be disaggregated by sex, age and disability.
2. The Commission shall provide the European Parliament and the Council with:
 - (a) an interim evaluation report by mid-2018 at the latest;
 - (b) an ex-post evaluation report.
3. The interim evaluation shall report on the achievement of the Programme's objectives, the efficiency of the use of resources and the Programme's European added value with a view to determining whether funding in areas covered by the Programme shall be renewed, modified or suspended after 2020. It shall also address the scope for any simplification of the Programme, its internal and external coherence, as well as the continued relevance of all objectives and actions. It shall take into account the results of the ex-post evaluations of the programmes mentioned in Article 13.
4. The ex-post evaluation shall report on the longer-term impacts of the Programme and on the sustainability of effects of the Programme, with a view to feed into a decision on a subsequent programme.

Article 13
Transitional measures

Actions which are initiated before 1 January 2014 on the basis of Decision 2007/252/EC, Decision 779/2007/EC or Section 4: Antidiscrimination and diversity, and Section 5: Gender equality of Decision 1672/2006/EC, shall continue to be governed by the provisions of those Decisions, until their completion. In respect of those actions, reference to the Committees provided for in Article 10 of Decision 2007/252/EC, in Article 10 of Decision 779/2007/EC and in Article 13 of Decision 1672/2006/EC shall be interpreted as references to the Committee provided for in Article 9 of the present Regulation.

Article 14
Entry into force

This Regulation shall enter into force on the 20th day following that of its publication in the Official Journal of the European Union.

LEGISLATIVE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

1. FRAMEWORK OF THE PROPOSAL/INITIATIVE

1.1. Title of the proposal/initiative

Proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council establishing for the period 2014 to 2020 the Rights and Citizenship Programme

1.2. Policy area(s) concerned in the ABM/ABB structure¹⁸

Title 33 - Justice

1.3. Nature of the proposal/initiative

- The proposal/initiative relates to a new action
- The proposal/initiative relates to a new action following a pilot project/preparatory action¹⁹
- The proposal/initiative relates to the extension of an existing action
- The proposal/initiative relates to an action redirected towards a new action

1.4. Objectives

1.4.1. The Commission's multiannual strategic objective(s) targeted by the proposal/initiative

The Programme aims to contribute to the development of an area of freedom, security and justice, by promoting and supporting the effective implementation of a Europe of rights, as enshrined in the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union and the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union. This includes in particular the rights deriving from European citizenship, the principles of non discrimination on the grounds of sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation and equality between women and men, the rights of persons with disabilities and of the elderly, the right to the protection of personal data, the rights of the child, consumers' rights and the freedom to conduct a business in the internal market, by facilitating cross-border transactions.

1.4.2. Specific objective(s) and ABM/ABB activity(ies) concerned

Specific objectives

To achieve the above-mentioned general objective, the Programme has the following specific objectives:

- (a) to contribute to enhancing the exercise of rights deriving from the citizenship of the Union;

¹⁸ ABM: Activity-Based Management – ABB: Activity-Based Budgeting.
¹⁹ As referred to in Article 49(6)(a) or (b) of the Financial Regulation.

(b) to promote the effective implementation of the principles of non discrimination on the grounds of sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation, including equality between women and men and the rights of persons with disabilities and of the elderly;

(c) to contribute to ensuring a high level of protection of personal data;

(d) to enhance the respect of the rights of the child;

(e) to empower consumers and businesses to trade and purchase in trust within the internal market by enforcing the rights deriving from the Union consumer legislation and by supporting the freedom to conduct business in the internal market through cross-border transactions.

ABM/ABB activity concerned

ABB 33 02 and 33 06.

1.4.3. Expected result(s) and impact

Specify the effects which the proposal/initiative should have on the beneficiaries/groups targeted.

The proposal will contribute to the enforcement of the acquis, allowing citizens and businesses in the Union to fully benefit from the existing legislation. They will be better aware of their rights, and Member States and stakeholders will have better tools to exchange information on best practices and to cooperate with each other. The effects of the proposal on beneficiaries/target groups is described in more detail in Section 4.1.2 of the Impact Assessment.

In addition, the changes to the funding programmes proposed will have a clear beneficial effect on the processes under which financial support will be managed. This would start from an integrated approach across the programmes in the applications processes, the documentation required and the IT-systems to be used. This in itself will constitute a concrete time-saving as many stakeholders which are active in fields covered by several of the current generations of programmes, would no longer have to address diverging requirements and could concentrate more on developing strong proposals from a content and quality point of view.

Furthermore, with a harmonised and streamlined single project selection process, the delays between submitting applications and receiving the results would be substantially reduced and this would leave applicant organisation with a shorter interval of uncertainty. This would bring the further added advantage of projects starting much shorter after their conception and therefore would respond much more effectively to the concrete needs they seek to address in line with EU policy priorities

1.4.4. Indicators of results and impact

Specify the indicators for monitoring implementation of the proposal/initiative.

The indicators to measure the achievement of the above-mentioned specific objectives, shall be, inter alia, the European perception of the respect, exercise and implementation of these rights and the number of complaints..

DG Justice does not have enough information about the current situation to establish meaningful long- or medium-term targets, but before implementation of the programme starts, DG Justice will try to collect more information on the current situation so that milestones and targets can be set.

1.5. Grounds for the proposal/initiative

1.5.1. Requirement(s) to be met in the short or long term

Whereas legislation is a key tool to implement the Union's objectives in the area of rights and citizenship, it needs to be complemented by other means. In this context, funding has an important role to play. In particular, funding should enhance the effectiveness of legislation and rights enshrined directly in the Treaty by increasing knowledge, awareness and capacity of citizens, professionals and stakeholders, through supporting:

- Information and public awareness raising, including support for national and European campaigns to inform people of their rights, as guaranteed under EU law, and how to enforce them in practice;
- Training and capacity building for legal professionals (such as judges and prosecutors) and other practitioners, to equip them with the tools to effectively put EU rights and policies into practice.

Funding also has a central role in promoting cooperation at transnational level and developing mutual trust, through:

- Strengthening networks, i.e. EU-wide organisations to assist with the preparation of future initiatives in this area, as well as to promote their consistent implementation across Europe;
- Cross-border cooperation on enforcement, for example establishing missing child alert systems, coordination of operational and cross-border anti-drug co-operation.

Additionally, funding should support:

- Research, analysis and other support activities, to provide to the legislator clear and detailed information on the problems and the situation on the ground. The results of these activities feed into the development and the implementation of EU policies and ensure that they are evidence-based, well targeted and well structured.

1.5.2. Added value of EU involvement

Funding covered by the Rights and Citizenship Programme concentrates on activities where the EU intervention can bring additional value compared to action of Member States alone. Activities covered by this Regulation contribute to the effective application of the acquis by developing mutual trust between Member States, increasing cross-border cooperation and networking and achieving correct, coherent and consistent application of Union law across the Union. Only action at Union level can provide coordinated activities that can reach all Member States. The European Union is in a better position than Member States to address cross-border situations and to provide a European platform for mutual learning. Without Union support, stakeholders would tend to address similar problems in a fragmented and disconnected way. Collaboration and networking between them will lead to the dissemination of best practices, in particular innovative and integrated approaches in different Member States. The participants in these activities will then act as multipliers in their respective professional activities and disseminate wider the best practices within their Member State.

A sound analytical basis for the support and the development of policies will be supported. European Union intervention allows for these activities to be pursued consistently across the Union and brings economies of scale. Funding at national level would not provide the same results, but only a fragmented and limited approach not covering the needs of the European Union as a whole.

1.5.3. Lessons learned from similar experiences in the past

The mid-term evaluations carried out for the current programmes in the area of rights and citizenship have confirmed the overall effectiveness of the programmes, but they have also identified a number of problems such as a dilution of funds ('saupoudrage') amongst many small-scale projects with limited impact. Despite the fact that funding is allocated to a multitude of projects, there is no balanced geographical spread among the organisations which receive funding. The mid-term evaluations agree that more should be done to improve the dissemination and exploitation of results and outputs of the funded activities. Improvement in dissemination goes hand in hand with improvement in the evaluation and monitoring. The mid-term evaluations and the public consultation highlighted in terms of efficiency the complex and bureaucratic procedures that the applicants are facing. From an administrative point of view the multiplication of procedures for the different programmes imposes a high administrative burden on the Commission. The multiplication of procedures and the high administrative burden contribute to increasing the length of procedures. Merging the programmes would address this issue and create synergies between the programmes.

1.5.4. Coherence and possible synergy with other relevant instruments

The Programme will seek synergies, consistency and complementarities with other Union instruments, inter alia with the Justice programme and with programmes in the areas of home affairs; employment; health and consumer protection; education, training, youth and sport; communication; information society; enlargement, in particular the Instrument for Pre-accession Assistance and the funds operating under the Common Strategic Framework (CSF funds). Duplication with activities under these other programmes will be avoided, and resources may be shared between the Justice programme and the Rights and Citizenship Programme to achieve common objectives.

1.6. Duration and financial impact

Proposal/initiative of limited duration

- Proposal/initiative in effect from 01/01/2014 to 31/12/2020
- Financial impact from 2014 to 2020 and further

Proposal/initiative of unlimited duration

- Implementation with a start-up period from YYYY to YYYY,
- followed by full-scale operation.

1.7. Management mode(s) envisaged²⁰

Centralised direct management by the Commission

Centralised indirect management with the delegation of implementation tasks to:

- executive agencies
- bodies set up by the Communities²¹
- national public-sector bodies/bodies with public-service mission
- persons entrusted with the implementation of specific actions pursuant to Title V of the Treaty on European Union and identified in the relevant basic act within the meaning of Article 49 of the Financial Regulation

Shared management with the Member States

Decentralised management with third countries

Joint management with international organisations (as specified below)

If more than one management mode is indicated, please provide details in the "Comments" section.

Comments

The possibility to use an existing executive agency for the full or partial implementation of the Programme is provided for in the Explanatory Memorandum. At this stage, no decision has been taken in this regard, and no cost/benefit analysis has been carried out, but the option should be kept open.

²⁰ Details of management modes and references to the Financial Regulation may be found on the BudgWeb site: http://www.cc.cec/budg/man/budgmanag/budgmanag_en.html

²¹ As referred to in Article 185 of the Financial Regulation.

Joint management is another option that could be envisaged in the future. This concerns in particular the international organisations named in Article 6 para. 2: Council of Europe, United Nations and OECD.

2. MANAGEMENT MEASURES

2.1. Monitoring and reporting rules

Specify frequency and conditions.

The proposal includes monitoring and evaluation obligations. Achievement of the specific objectives will be monitored regularly on the basis of the indicators contained in the proposal.

Furthermore, an interim evaluation report on the achievement of the Programme's objectives, the efficiency of the use of resources and its European added value will be provided by the Commission by mid-2018 at the latest. An ex post evaluation on the longer-term impacts and the sustainability of the effects of the Programme will be provided after the end of the Programme.

2.2. Management and control system

2.2.1. Risk(s) identified

DG Justice has not been facing important risks of errors in its spending programmes. This is confirmed by the recurrent absence of significant findings in the annual reports of the Court of Auditors as well as by the absence of residual error rate above 2% in the past years in DG Justice's (and former DG JLS) annual activity reports (with one single exception for the Daphne programme in 2009).

The main risks identified are the following:

- Risk of poor quality of selected projects and poor technical implementation of the project, reducing the programmes' impact; due to inadequate selection procedures, lack of expertise or insufficient monitoring;
- Risk of inefficient or non-economic use of funds awarded, both for grants (complexity of reimbursing actual eligible costs coupled with limited possibilities to check eligible costs at the desk) and for procurement (sometimes limited number of economic providers with the required specialist knowledge entailing insufficient possibilities to compare price offers);
- Risk relating to the capacity of (especially) smaller organisations to effectively control expenditure as well as to ensure the transparency of operations carried out;
- Reputational risk for the Commission, if fraud or criminal activities are discovered; only partial assurance can be drawn from the third parties' internal control systems due to the rather large number of heterogeneous contractors and beneficiaries, each operating their own control system, often rather small in size.

Most of these risks are expected to be reduced thanks to a better targeting of proposals and the use of simplified elements included in the Triennial revision of the Financial Regulation.

2.2.2. Control method(s) envisaged

Description of internal control system

The control system envisaged for the future programme is a continuation of the current control system. It is composed of different building blocks: supervision of operations by the Programme Management Unit, the ex-ante control (financial verification) by the central Budget and Control Unit, the internal procurement committee (JPC), the ex-post controls for grants and the audits from the Internal Audit Capacity and/or the Internal Audit Service.

All transactions are subject to an ex ante verification by the Programme Management Unit and a financial verification by the Budget and Control Unit (except for low-risk prefinancings). For grants, cost claims are verified thoroughly, and supporting documents are requested when deemed necessary, based on a risk assessment. All open and restricted procurement procedures and all negotiated procedures above € 60.000 are submitted to the internal procurement committee for checks before the award decision is adopted.

The ex-post control sector applies a "detection strategy" aimed at detecting a maximum of anomalies in view of recovering undue payments. Based on this strategy, the audits are carried out on a sample of projects selected almost entirely on the basis of a risk analysis.

Costs and benefits of controls

We estimate that between 50 and 70% of all staff involved in the management of the current financial programmes performs control functions in a broad sense (from the selection of beneficiaries/contractors to the implementation of audit results). This corresponds to a range between EUR 2,1 million (50% of 2014 Human resource costs set out in Section 3.2.3) and EUR 3,2 million (70% of 2020 Human resource costs set out in Section 3.2.3) In addition, externalisation of ex post audits produce costs in the range of between € 75.000 and 100.000 per year, which are financed from administrative support appropriations. These costs represent between 6 and 4% of the total budget of the Programme, decreasing over the seven year period, due to the fact that the annual appropriations increase substantially between 2014 and 2020, whereas the costs of control remain quite stable.

Thanks to the combination of ex-ante and ex-post controls as well as desk checks and on-site audits, in the past years the quantifiable average residual error rate was lower than 2%, with one exception for the Daphne programme in 2009, where the error rate rose slightly above 2%. This was addressed the year after via an increase of ex post controls on the spot. These controls have detected and corrected the remaining errors in this population. Therefore, the internal control system as well as its cost is deemed adequate in DG Justice to achieve the objective of a low error rate.

However, within this framework, DG Justice will continue to explore possibilities to enhance the management and to increase simplification. With the reduction of the number of programmes, harmonised rules and procedures will apply, reducing the risk of error. In addition, the simplification tools made available in the Triennial revision of the Financial Regulation will be used as much as possible as it is expected that they will contribute to the reduction of administrative burden for beneficiaries and thus represent a simultaneous reduction of risks of error and of administrative burden for the Commission.

Summary of nature and intensity of (current) controls.

Summary of controls	Amount MEUR	Number of beneficiaries/ transactions (% of total)	Depth *(assessment 1-4)	Coverage (% of Value)
Ex ante controls on all financial transactions	N/A	100%	1-4, based on risk and type of transaction	100%
Justice Procurement Committee controls on procurement award decisions	N/A	100% of procurement procedures above 125.000 € and of negotiated procedures above 60.000 €	4	100% of procurement procedures above 125.000 € and of negotiated procedures above 60.000 €
Ex post controls on grants final payments	N/A	At least 10%	4	Between 5 and 10%

*Depth of controls:

1. Minimal administrative/ arithmetic control with no reference to supporting documents
2. Control with reference to corroborative information incorporating an element of independent oversight (e.g. audit certificate or other verification), but no reference to underlying documents.
3. Control with reference to fully independent corroborative information (e.g., database which justifies certain elements of the claim, 3rd party or Commission assessment of milestones achieved, etc.)
4. Control with reference to and including access to the underlying documentation that is available at the stage of the process in question, for all inputs and outputs (e.g. timesheets, invoices, physical verification, etc.); i.e. control of the same intensity of transaction testing as those carried out by the ECA as part of the DAS.

2.3. Measures to prevent fraud and irregularities

Specify existing or envisaged prevention and protection measures.

Different measures are or will be put in place for the future Rights and Citizenship Programme to prevent fraud and irregularities. The proposal contains in its Article 11 a provision on the protection of the financial interests of the European Union. In line with the Commission Anti-fraud strategy (CAFS), adopted in June 2011, DG Justice is devising an anti-fraud strategy covering the whole expenditure cycle, having regard to the proportionality and cost-benefit of the measures to be implemented. This strategy is based on two pillars: prevention, based on effective checks, and appropriate response, if fraud or irregularities are detected, consisting in the recovery of amounts wrongly paid and where appropriate, by effective, proportionate and deterrent penalties. The anti-fraud strategy describes the system of ex ante and ex post checks, based on a system of red flags, and specifies the procedures to be followed by staff when fraud or irregularities are detected. It also provides information on the working arrangements with OLAF.

3.2.2. Estimated impact on operational appropriations

- The proposal/initiative does not require the use of operational appropriations
- The proposal/initiative requires the use of operational appropriations, as explained below. It is not possible for DG Justice to provide an exhaustive list of all outputs to be delivered by means of the financial intervention under the programme, their average costs and numbers, as requested by this section. There are no statistical tools at the moment allowing to produce average costs on the basis of the current programmes, and such a precise definition would be contrary to the principle that the future programme should provide enough flexibility to cater for political priorities between 2014-2020. However, this is a (non-exhaustive) list of outputs that are expected:
 - Number of persons in target group reached by awareness-raising activities;
 - Number of persons in target group reached by training activities.
 - Number of stakeholders participating inter alia in networking, exchanges, study visits.
 - Number of cases of trans-border cooperation, including via the use of IT tools and European procedures.
 - Policy initiatives designed on the basis of evaluations, impact assessments and drawing on comprehensive stakeholders' and experts' consultations;
 - Number of evaluations and impact assessments carried out as a result of the implementation of the programme.
