

Francesco Ianniello

Education

September 1968 – July 1969 : post-graduate studies at the «École des Hautes Études» ENI, in Milan, Major in Economy of Enterprises

September 1963 - July 1968 : Bachelor Degree in Trade and Economics, Naples University

Professional experience at the European commission:

Since April 2004, Mr Ianniello is Head of unit at DG Enterprise and Industry at the «TOURISM» Unit. The renewed tourism policy, proposed by the Commission in 2006, aims to help the industry meet a number of challenges while promoting overall competitiveness. Those challenges include facing up to Europe's ageing population; growing external competition, consumer demands for more specialised tourism, and the need to develop more sustainable and environmentally friendly practices. The revised policy seeks to produce more and better jobs by nurturing conditions that will help tourism grow strongly in the coming years.

http://ec.europa.eu/enterprise/tourism/index_en.htm

http://ec.europa.eu/enterprise/services/tourism/index_en.htm

Découvrez une autre EUROPE:

<http://youtube.com/watch?v=5KD3RnSGDTY>

From July 1996 and until April 2004, M. Ianniello was Head of Unit "Craft, small businesses, cooperatives and mutuels" of DG Enterprise and Industry, whose task is to widen the understanding of the structure and specifics of the world of the enterprises and in particular to improve the environment of the :

- small enterprises, some categories of entrepreneurs (women, young women, disadvantaged groups),
- specific sectors such as artisanal companies,
- specific forms of entrepreneurship (among which cooperatives, mutuels, associations, communities).

<http://ec.europa.eu/enterprise/entrepreneurship/craft/index.htm>

<http://ec.europa.eu/enterprise/entrepreneurship/coop/index.htm>

From October 1990 until June 1996, he worked as Administrator at the Unit "Social Economy (cooperatives, associations, foundations and mutuels)", DG XXIII, "Enterprise Policy".

M. Ianniello joined the Commission in November 1971 and has worked in several Directorates General (Agriculture, Administration, and Development).

Brussels, February 12th, 2009