Catalogue of Measures: One page summary

Policy Activity – mid-September to end November 2013

The report identifies 90 labour market reforms taking place across 32 European countries introduced between mid-September and the end of November 2013. Most new measures were introduced in PA 2-Active Labour Market Measures / Public Employment Services (18), PA1-Labour market functioning / segmentation (16) and PA3-Social Security Systems (13). Together, these three policy areas accounted for 53 % of the total number of measures introduced during the period. Of the measures which specified a funding source, the largest proportion (38 %) are state funded, with a further 19 % EU co-funded.

Summary points – Main Policy Areas

PA1 – Labour market functioning/segmentation: Under this policy area, ten countries introduced a total of 16 new policy measures for the period. Almost one quarter of the new measures introduced (24%) have been enacted into law. Key areas of activity include measures addressing labour market segmentation for specific groups (PL (x3), RS); labour market reforms (ES, SI); and Flexicurity / changes in employment protection legislation (BE, NL, SK).

PA2 – ALMPs: This policy area experienced the greatest amount of reform overall during the period in question. A total of 18 new measures were introduced by 14 countries. The most popular type of measures introduced were reducing youth unemployment (IE, HR, CY (x2), LT, LU, MT, UK) and those supporting vulnerable workers (BE, HU (x2), AT, PT, SI, FYROM (x2)).

Four countries introduced a total of six new measures under Policy Area 4 (LV, HU, MT, PL) with Increasing child/family care provision (MT (x2), PL) and Changes to Parental Leave Arrangements and/or benefits (LV (x2), HU) seeing the most new measures.

1 Introduction

The aim of this Catalogue is to provide factual information on Member States' policy developments within the Europe 2020 framework. This document acts as a catalogue of:

- a) New measures introduced during the reporting period (mid-September - end November 2013), as identified by the EEPO network of experts;
- b) Measure updates, reporting progress on the implementation of existing measures included in previous Catalogues.

Table 1.1 below offers an overview of the volume of measures (newly introduced and updated) covered during the reporting period mid-September - end November 2013. Table 1.2 then illustrates the proportion of new measures introduced under each policy area during the reporting period.

From the tables that follow, it is evident that a total of 90 new measures have been introduced across the various European countries. Progress was most often reported in Policy Area (PA) 2, then PA 1 and PA 3:

- PA 2: Labour market functioning / segmentation
- PA 1: Active Labour Market Policies
- PA 3: Social security systems

The least progress was noted under PA 6 - Gender equality - and PA 4 - Work-life balance- where only 1 and 6 countries reported new measures, respectively.

Table 1.3 describes the breakdown of funding sources for new measures per policy area. The funding source was specified for 84 of the 90 new measures. According to this, over a third of the new measures (38 %) are state funded, while no specific funding is required to implement 31 % of the new measures and another 19 % are EU co-funded.

Table 1.4 summarises the proportion of new measures enacted into law under each PA. Overall, 41 % of the new measures included in this Catalogue have been enacted into law. The proportion of enactment in all PAs ranges from 25 % in PA 1 (Labour market functioning segmentation) to 100 % in PA 6 (Gender Equality, with the enactment of a single new measure for that PA).

The measures introduced during mid-September - end November 2013, as well as the measures where developments have occurred under each of the nine policy areas, are discussed in detail in the sections that follow.

The Regular Reports Database (RRD) also allows some analysis of the target groups for the new measures. From 90 measures, 16 targeted all workers, 14 targeted youth, 6 targeted people with disabilities, 6 measures targeted employers, 5 targeted the unemployed, 4 were targeted at children and 4 at immigrant labour, 3 measures each targeted low income earners or the long-term unemployed, 2 measures each were targeted at older workers, PES employees/civil servants, and 'all disadvantaged jobseekers' and 1 measure each targeted parents and women. The remaining 21 were categorised under 'other' target groups¹.

Last but not least, experts only categorised explicit policy drivers for 43 new measures out of a total of 90 (i.e. 47 %) with the largest proportion of that figure (17) categorised as having no explicit policy driver, 11 of the measures categorised as being driven by the country's National Reform Programme (NRP), 9 attributed to Country-Specific Recommendations (CSRs) and 3 each attributed to the Annual Growth Survey (AGS) and the country's Memorandum of Understanding (MoU).

A table listing all new measures, by title and country and by policy area, is included in Annex 1.

¹ We have increased the number of options in the list of target group options within the Regular Reports database, which has meant that the number of measures where the target group is categorised as 'other' has dropped from 87 in September 2013 to only 21 for this December 2013 report.

2 PA 1: Labour market functioning / segmentation

Under PA 1, 10 countries introduced a total of 16 new policy measures between mid-September and the end of November 2013. The most popular type of reform of any of the sub-policy areas has been in the area of tackling labour market segmentation (although three of the four reforms identified were in the same country – Poland). The following gives a breakdown of the new measures introduced in this policy area:

- Labour market reforms (Spain, Slovenia);
- Measures introducing local government reform (no new measures);
- Measures for reducing undeclared work (Estonia (x2));
- Flexicurity / changes in employment protection legislation measures (Belgium, the Netherlands, Slovakia);
- Measures addressing labour market segmentation for specific groups (Poland (x3), Serbia);
- Other (Estonia, Latvia, Poland, former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Serbia).

Updates to previously identified measures are found in the following countries: Bulgaria, France, Croatia, the Netherlands, Austria, Poland (x2), Finland, and the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

This is one of the policy areas which saw the majority of reforms throughout the various European Countries in the reporting period (18 % of the proportion of new measures across all policy areas). Around a quarter of the new measures introduced (24 %) have been enacted into law. The source of funding was specified for 13 of the 16 new measures, and this was most commonly EU co-funding (three measures) and 'other' funding (one measure). No specific funding was required for nine of the measures.

The measures and measure updates are discussed in turn below.

2.1 Labour Market Reform measures (2 new measures)

Reduction in the number of labour contracts

Country: Spain

Description: This measure, which has just been announced, would be included in a second round of the labour market reform which was launched in February 2013. According to the reform, the new modalities of labour contracts will be reduced from the current 41 models to 5. They would be: open-ended, temporary, replacement, internship and apprenticeship. The measure would affect all the new contracts signed after the initiative is launched.

Institution Responsible: Ministry of Employment

Main Objectives: Simplifying industrial relations; making clear the employment incentives linked to the different contracts; reducing the administrative burden on firms

Target Groups: All workers

Amendments to the Labour Market Regulation Act

Country: Slovenia

Description: The changes to the Labour Market Regulation Act are focused on ensuring greater professionalism of the temporary work agencies and thus ensuring greater legal security for workers employed by agencies. The agency will have to have its intermediary activity of temporary workers registered as a core business, and foreign agencies must have a branch in Slovenia. Increased worker security will also be provided with the obligation that the Agency should have at the beginning of the business a bank guarantee amounting to four times the minimum share of capital for a Ltd company. Agencies will be required to submit an annual independent auditor's report on the operations in accordance with the Employment Relationships Act. The activity will be controlled by a special expert commission.

Institution Responsible: Ministry of Labour, Family, Social Affairs and Equal Opportunities

Main Objectives: To improve the position of agency workers in the Slovenian labour market by setting new stricter standards for the establishment, maintaining and operation of temporary work agencies and to eliminate many abuses (chaining contracts, providing sometimes extremely short-time work, reducing payments to employees to cover the costs of agencies' services, unequal position of full-time employees and agency workers employed by the employer) of workers employed through temporary work agencies.

Amendments of the Aliens Act aimed at attracting highly qualified labour force entered into force

Country: Estonia

Description: Firstly, the list of groups exempt from the general immigration quota has been broadened. For example, international students who want to stay in Estonia for work after graduation as well as researchers from third-countries are no longer included in the quota requirement. Secondly, to support family reunification highly qualified third-country nationals can bring their immediate family with them - the requirement for prior residence of the spouse in Estonia for at least two years is not applied. Thirdly, a so-called fast-tracking procedure for registering short-term temporary employment of highly qualified workers is launched. This means that the person can start working on the same calendar day as the Police and Boarder Guard Board receives the notification of registration instead of the previous requirement to register their employment before starting work. The assessment of the legality of the employment will be carried out after the person has started working in Estonia. Fourthly, to employ third-country nationals who have obtained their bachelors, master or PhD degree in Estonia, as well as highly qualified workers under certain conditions the requirement to obtain a permit of the Unemployment Insurance Fund is abolished. Previously, the vacancies had to be registered in and advertised by the Unemployment Insurance Fund for three weeks before the position could be filled with a third-country national. The evaluation suggests that the implementation has progressed reasonably well, with some delays in the first half-year, and still a rather uneven level of implementation, especially concerning municipalities. The PES reform running parallel has caused some delays, as also the differences in capabilities and economies of the municipalities. Youth Outreach has progressed well and seems to have good capabilities. Also, Vocational Training Institutes have

	been active, setting in place steering groups and naming responsible persons. Young people know about the Youth Guarantee (70 % of young people, mostly those aged 25 to 29 years who have just graduated). Recommendations are more investment in personal contacts, like in PES, more emphasis on the whole service system (not just individual services), more focussed and tailored social, health and rehabilitation services for those in the most difficult situation, establishing better integrated e-communication systems, expanding the scope of the Guarantee also to repeated school drop-outs and students graduating with poor degrees.

Support for carers of people with disabilities

Country: Poland

Description: The Ministry of Labour and Social Policy is launching a consultation on the draft amendments to financial support from the state budget to the carers of people with disabilities. The support for carers consists of the benefit, as well as the payment of contributions for retirement, disability and health insurance. The project involves the standardisation of principles and criteria for the award of benefits. It introduces standardisation of the extent of their dependency and the amount of benefit adapted to it. The Ministry proposes to introduce one type of benefit (provision of care) for all caregivers dealing with a disabled family member, regardless of age or disability. The income criteria will be lifted, as well as the reason for resigning or not undertaking work in relation to the care for disabled. The project introduces an assessment of the extent of the care needs of disabled based on a five-step scale. Assessment will be made by the Regional Team for Deciding on Disability. In relation to a care taker an interview will be conducted periodically to confirm that the care being taken is to be carried out at the stage of granting benefits and updated every six months. The amount of support will vary. The lowest amount of support (for obtaining a first degree) will amount to PLN 846.42 (about EUR 200) (including social security and health contributions). The highest amount of support (for the fifth grade) will relate to the level of the minimum wage and will be in 2017 about PLN 2 000 (about EUR 480). Between the lowest and highest there will be three intermediate levels of benefit.

Providing facilities for the long term unemployed to certify their non-formally and informally acquired skills and qualifications

Country: Romania

Description: According to the new provisions of the amended and completed Law no.76/2002 (amendments passed via Law no.250/2013), support for the long term unemployed -defined as those in unemployment for 12 months and more or, in case of the young between 15 and 24 years of age as those in unemployment for 6 months or more - will be provided via the unemployment insurance fund for the access of attestation services provided by private centres engaging in this new way of certification of previously acquired skills for which the holder has no formal certificate. This is construed as helping those concerned to gain a more rapid access to new job openings and improve their LM reintegration chances, as employers will treat them as qualified workers for various openings. It is expected that in 2014 alone around 4 500 long-term unemployed, mostly young and mostly early school leavers, will benefit from the measure.

Institution Responsible: The Romanian PES, the National Agency for Employment, will be the main organisation responsible for the delivery of the measure, as it will be financed from the unemployment insurance fund. Responsibilities will be shared also with the Ministry of Labour, which has been the initiator of the law as well as with employers and trade unions in some cases, especially where regional pacts for employment have been concluded and are operational. Local and regional authorities might also gain more say as the Government prepares to pass one of its most important reforms - the 'decentralisation act' which will divide Romania into a number of regions, having extensive administrative powers devolved from the central Government and which among others will take responsibilities in the field of education and training. However it is to be noted that no responsibilities will be transferred in terms of employment as the unemployment insurance fund will retain national administration.

Main Objectives: To increase labour market reintegration chances of the long-term unemployed, especially of the young and of the young at multiple disadvantage; To encourage the certification of skills and qualifications acquired non formally and informally, even during production processes at various employers for which neither employers nor employees were able to provide or receive, initially certification/attestation; To provide a measure of support to one of the labour market categories at most disadvantage, i.e.; the LTU and encourage them to continue to register with the employment offices even after termination of their benefit period, so as to enable the provision of counselling and job placement services and thus again speed-up reintegration and avoid the lapse into inactivity or the resort to undeclared work;

Target Groups: Long-term unemployed

Duration of measure: Permanent

Has the measure been enacted into law? Yes

What is the legal reference? Law no.250/2013

Date of adoption: July 2013

Is the measure being enforced? Yes

Start date for implementation of the measure: 01.01.2014

Enacted/not enacted into law - State of play? The law has been adopted and norms for application have been drafted. They will be probably approved by the Minister of Labour and published as of the end of this year.

Have any steps been taken to monitor the implementation of the measure: Yes

Funding Sources: EU co-funded

Is there a specific budget allocated to the measure? Yes

Budget: EUR 0.92 million

Recommendation that the measure responds to: CSR, NRP

Recommendation details: CSR no.4, which specifically calls for the fight against youth unemployment including through the implementation of a Youth Guarantee. The same CSR calls for the improvement of the capacity to deliver services of the PES as well as the strengthening of active labour market policies and providing individualised services and promote lifelong learning.

The second is a new vocational training scheme in large companies and their supply chains who pledge to offer places to young people either as preparation for an apprenticeship or for a job.

Main Objectives: To widen the choice of young people who want to go into a vocational skill and at the same time making apprenticeships higher quality and more closely linked to the needs of industry.

Reform of the Joint Labour Committee System

Country: Ireland

Description: On 1 October, the Minister for Jobs, Enterprise and Innovation Richard Bruton T.D., published the Report of the Labour Court's Review of the Joint Labour Committee (JLC) system. The purposes of Joint Labour Committees are to regulate conditions of employment and set minimum rates of pay for employees in certain sectors of employment. JLCs are independent bodies made up of equal numbers of employer and worker representatives appointed by the Labour Court, with a chair appointed by the Minister for Jobs, Enterprise and Innovation. The Report recommended that the overall number of JLCs be reduced and that the scope of others be amended to take into account the changing circumstances of the sectors within which those JLCs operate. At the launch, the Minister said that he accepted the recommendations contained in the Report and set out the legal steps necessary for their implementation. The following summarises, in respect of each JLC, the recommendations and action required to give effect to the Report.

- Agricultural Workers: The recommendation is that the JLC be retained for this sector with reduced scope. As the Agricultural Workers JLC was established under primary legislation (the Industrial Relations Act 1976), an amendment to the Establishment Order requires amending primary legislation. This process will get under way shortly.

- Catering (Dublin and Dun Laoghaire)/Catering (Other): The recommendation favoured by the Minister is that the existing structures and scope be maintained but that the two JLCs be chaired by the same person.

- Contract Cleaning: The recommendation is that the JLC should be retained with an amended Establishment Order that reflects the consensus reflected in the draft Registered Employment Agreement recently agreed.

- Hairdressing: The recommendation favoured by the Minister is that the JLC should be retained but the scope reduced to those workers in establishments which provide a hairdressing service only.

- Hotels (Dublin and Dun Laoghaire)/Hotels (Other excluding Cork) The recommendation is that the Hotels JLC for the Dublin area should be abolished. The Hotels JLC for the area outside of Dublin is to be retained and the Establishment Order should be amended to clarify the classes of workers covered as detailed in the Labour Court Report.

- Law Clerks: The recommendation is that the JLC be abolished.

- Retail Grocery and Allied Trades: The recommendation is that the JLC should be retained with an amended scope in terms of redefining the competitive sector to which the JLC will apply.

- Security: The recommendation is that the JLC should be retained with an amended Establishment Order that reflects the consensus reflected in the draft Registered Employment Agreement recently agreed.

Institution Responsible: Department for Jobs Enterprise and Innovation

Main Objectives: To reform the JLC system.

Description of Measure	Description of December 2013 Update
Country: Denmark Measure Title: Combating social dumping Description: There are stricter sanctions in cases of violation of national rules. There is wider use of clauses against social dumping in contracts between public authorities and private entrepreneurs. Measure Time Period: Oct 2012	Title: The final agreement on the Fiscal Bill for 2014 contained more resources for combating social dumping. What has changed: The existing efforts to combat social dumping will be continued based on a special allocation of DKK 74 million (EUR 10 million) in each of the years 2014-2017.
Country: Croatia Measure Title: Revision of collective agreement arrangements in the public sector Description: Negotiations about collective agreement revisions with public services trade unions collapsed in early August and the government cancelled basic collective agreements (about to expire in November) for public services, affecting education and science, health and social services. This is likely to lead to a substantive reduction of benefits (in particular compensations guaranteed by the basic collective agreement, the supplement for education workers being most outstanding) in months to follow. A protest of about 10 000 public services workers ensued in October. Public administration employees have accepted revised collective agreements, with some rights reduced in annex. Measure Time Period: Oct 2012	Title: Revision of collective agreement arrangements in health care and health insurance sector What has changed: Since the amended fundamental collective agreement was concluded between the Government and the public sector in December 2012, public sector branches started to require amendments to branch collective agreements, due to their specific working conditions. On 2 December 2013, the Independent Union of Health and Social Welfare, and the Croatian Trade Union of Nurses signed a new collective agreement with the Government, following the exhaustive and long strike (started in September 2013). Unfortunately, the Croatian Medical Union (doctors) did not agree with the level of suggested amendments, particularly referring to the low wages for doctors.

Country: Latvia Measure Title: Increase in the minimum wage Description: Minimum wage will be EUR 320 per month from Jan 2014. That is equivalent to an increase from the current LVL 200 to LVL 225. The minimum hourly rates will increase pro rata. Measure Time Period: Sep 2013	Title: Measure is accepted What has changed: The government has accepted this measure.
Country: Slovakia Measure Title: Amendment to the law on higher-level collective agreements Description: The binding character of higher-level collective agreements shall be extended to include also employers, who do not endorse the agreement. To widen the coverage, higher-level collective agreements shall refer to the broader 'division level' (2-digit) of NACE Rev. 2 instead of the currently applied 'group level' (3 digit). A tripartite commission will be established by law to negotiate extension of collective agreements and review comments filed by employers. Small businesses with up to 20 employees and enterprises employing a minimum of 10 disabled workers shall be excluded from the binding coverage. Measure Time Period: Jan 2013	Title: MPs override President's veto and approve the measure What has changed: The parliament approved an extension of the binding nature of higher collective agreements in a repeated vote on 27 November 2013. Consequently, higher collective agreements will apply to any company employing more than 20 people in a given sector, regardless of whether the company has consented to the agreement or not.

More specifically, the social contribution break shall apply to employees whose gross wage is below EUR 536 in 2013 and EUR 539 in 2014 (67 % of the economy-wide average wage reported two years ago). Employees will be freed from any contributions for a period of one year. Employers' contribution paid on behalf of the employee will include only a small contribution to accident insurance and guarantee insurance (1.05 % of the gross wage). At a gross wage of EUR 536, the employee would save EUR 70 and the employer EUR 180 compared with the current rules. Companies will have to employ these long-term unemployed on standard employment contracts and may not release other incumbent workers. Another precondition is that employers have no arrears in social and health insurance. Measure Time Period: Sep 2013	the temporary lowering of social contributions, paid by employers who take on workers unemployed for more than one year. The plans for the introduction of so-called contribution (or payroll) loans have moved ahead as the Ministry of Finance chose in a tender procedure one bank (Slovenska zarucna a rozvojova banka), which shall offer subsidised loans to companies threatened by redundancies and unable to draw commercial loans.

Severance Pay Reform Proposal

Country: Turkey

Description: The Ministry of Labour and Social Security initiated discussions about severance pay regulation reform earlier this year. They had in mind the Austrian system where contributions go to a fund that the worker may choose to continue in her/his new work place, should he/she lose or quits her/his present job. Social partners (employer and worker union confederations) partook in the discussions of this new proposal of severance pay fund to be transformed into individual accounts that can accumulate across jobs.

Institution Responsible: Ministry of Labour and Social Security

Main Objectives: This has been a challenge long identified for Turkey. TISK (the Turkish Employer Unions Confederation) was a vocal believer of the existing system. (TISK members tend to be formal, large, and unionised; the primary segment of the private sector establishments.) The Social Security Institution (SGK) regularly protested its enormous revenue losses resulting from informal employment. MoLSS wanted to address these concerns.

Target Groups: All workers

Duration of measure: Permanent

Has the measure been enacted into law? No

If not law, what type of measure is it? Government Proposal

Enacted/not enacted into law - State of play? After some intense debate, in late November, the Ministry offered that the government cover 25 % of severance pay premia, taking a cue from the current incentive system for private pension funds. (For every TRY 100 / EUR 35 invested in a private pension fund, the government adds another TRY 25 / EUR 9 up to a capped amount; an enormous incentive.) Another portion of the proposed severance pay premia was also to be contributed from the unemployment insurance fund. The government's final offer was to retain the 30-day pay for every year of tenure and have 8.3 % of gross pay paid to the severance pay fund. Two points would be contributed by the government, two points would come from the unemployment insurance fund, and four points would be contributed by the employer. In an interesting turn of events, TISK (employers) also defaulted on its support of the government's proposal for reforming severance pay. The Minister, Mr. Faruk Çelik, said that the topic of severance pay is now closed but did then make another invitation on 7 December, for one 'last' chance to discuss the reform.
