He shall draw up the documents required by the Special Conditions for the tasks executed up to the date on which termination takes effect, within a period not exceeding sixty days from that date.

II. General conditions

Article II.1 Performance of the Contract

II.1.1. The Contractor shall perform the Contract to the highest professional standards. The Contractor shall have sole responsibility for complying with any legal obligations incumbent on him, notably those resulting from employment, tax and social legislation.

II.1.2. The Contractor shall have sole responsibility for taking the necessary steps to obtain any permit or licence required for performance of the Contract under the laws and regulations in force at the place where the tasks assigned to him are to be executed.

II.1.3. Without prejudice to Article II.3 any reference made to the Contractor's staff in the Contract shall relate exclusively to individuals involved in the performance of the Contract.

II.1.4. The Contractor must ensure that any staff performing the Contract have the professional qualifications and experience required for the execution of the tasks assigned to him.

II.1.5. The Contractor shall neither represent the Commission nor behave in any way that would give such an impression. The Contractor shall inform third parties that he does not belong to the European public service.

II.1.6. The Contractor shall have sole responsibility for the staff who execute the tasks assigned to him.

- staff executing the tasks assigned to the Contractor may not be given orders direct by the Commission;
- the Commission may not under any circumstances be considered to be the staff's employer and the said staff shall undertake not to invoke in respect of the Commission any right arising from the contractual relationship between the Commission and the Contractor.

II.1.7. In the event of disruption resulting from the action of a member of the Contractor's staff working on Commission premises or in the event of the expertise of a member of the Contractor's staff failing to correspond to the profile required by the Contract, the Contractor shall replace him without delay. The Commission shall have the right to request the replacement of any such member of staff, stating its reasons for so doing. Replacement staff must have the necessary qualifications and be capable of performing the Contract under the same contractual conditions. The Contractor shall be responsible for any delay in the execution of the tasks assigned to him resulting from the replacement of staff in accordance with this Article.

II.1.8. Should any unforeseen event, action or omission directly or indirectly hamper execution of the tasks, either partially or totally, the Contractor shall immediately and on his own initiative record it and report it to the Commission. The report shall include a description of the problem and an indication of the date on which it started and of the remedial action taken by the Contractor to ensure full compliance with his obligations under the Contract. In such event the Contractor shall give priority to solving the problem rather than determining liability.

II.1.9. Should the Contractor fail to perform his obligations under the Contract in accordance with the provisions laid down therein, the Commission may - without prejudice to its right to terminate the Contract - reduce or recover payments in proportion to the scale of the failure. In addition, the Commission may impose penalties or liquidated damages provided for in Article II.16.

II.2.5. The Contractor shall take out insurance against risks and damage relating to performance of the Contract if required by the relevant applicable legislation. He shall take out supplementary insurance as reasonably required by standard practice in the industry. A copy of all the relevant insurance contracts shall be sent to the Commission should it so request.

Article II.3 Conflict of Interests

II.3.1. The Contractor shall take all necessary measures to prevent any situation that could compromise the impartial and objective performance of the Contract. Such conflict of interests could arise in particular as a result of economic interest, political or national affinity, family or emotional ties, or any other relevant connection or shared interest. Any conflict of interests which could arise during performance of the Contract must be notified to the Commission in writing without delay. In the event of such conflict, the Contractor shall immediately take all necessary steps to resolve it.

The Commission reserves the right to verify that such measures are adequate and may require additional measures to be taken, if necessary, within a time limit which it shall set. The Contractor shall ensure that his staff, board and directors are not placed in a situation which could give rise to conflict of interests. Without prejudice to Article II.1 the Contractor shall replace, immediately and without compensation from the Commission, any member of his staff exposed to such a situation.

II.3.2. The Contractor shall abstain from any contact likely to compromise his independence.

II.3.3. The Contractor declares:

- that he has not made and will not make any offer of any type whatsoever from which an advantage can be derived under the Contract,
- that he has not granted and will not grant, has not sought and will not seek, has not attempted and will not attempt to obtain, and has not accepted and will not accept, any advantage, financial or in kind, to or from any party whatsoever, where such advantage constitutes an illegal practice or involves corruption, either directly or indirectly, inasmuch as it is an incentive or reward relating to performance of the Contract.

II.3.4. The Contractor shall pass on all the relevant obligations in writing to his staff, board, and directors as well as to third parties involved in performance of the Contract. A copy of the instructions given and the undertakings made in this respect shall be sent to the Commission should it so request.

Article II.4 Payments

II.4.1. Pre-financing

Where required by Article I.4.1, the Contractor shall provide a financial guarantee in the form of a bank guarantee or equivalent supplied by a bank or an authorised financial institution (guarantor) equal to the amount indicated in the same article to cover pre-financing under the Contract. Such guarantee may be replaced by a joint and several guarantee by a third party. The guarantor shall pay to the Commission at its request an amount corresponding to payments made by it to the Contractor which have not yet been covered by equivalent work on his part. The guarantor shall stand as first-call guarantor and shall not require the Commission to have recourse against the principal debtor (the Contractor). The guarantee shall specify that it enters into force at the latest on the date on which the Contractor receives the pre-financing. The Commission shall release the guarantor from its obligations as soon as the Contractor has demonstrated that any pre-financing has been covered by equivalent work. The guarantee shall be retained until the pre-financing has been deducted from interim payments or payment of the balance to the Contractor. It shall be released the following month. The cost of providing such guarantee shall be borne by the Contractor.

II.4.2. Interim payment

At the end of each of the periods indicated in Annex I the Contractor shall submit to the Commission a formal request for payment accompanied by those of the following documents which are provided for in the Special Conditions:

- an interim technical report in accordance with the instructions laid down in Annex I;
- the relevant invoices indicating the reference number of the Contract to which they refer;
- statements of reimbursable expenses in accordance with Article II.7.

If the report is a condition for payment, on receipt the Commission shall have the period of time indicated in the Special Conditions in which:

- to approve it, with or without comments or reservations, or suspend such period and request additional information; or
- to reject it and request a new report.

If the Commission does not react within this period, the report shall be deemed to have been approved. Approval of the report does not imply recognition either of its regularity or of the authenticity, completeness or correctness of the declarations or information enclosed. Where the Commission requests a new report because the one previously submitted has been rejected, this shall be submitted within the period of time indicated in the Special Conditions. The new report shall likewise be subject to the above provisions.

II.4.3. Payment of the balance

Within sixty days of completion of the tasks referred to in Annex I the Contractor shall submit to the Commission a formal request for payment accompanied by those of the following documents which are provided for in the Special Conditions:

- a final technical report in accordance with the instructions laid down in Annex I;
- the relevant invoices indicating the reference number of the Contract to which they refer;
- statements of reimbursable expenses in accordance with Article II.7.

If the report is a condition for payment, on receipt the Commission shall have the period of time indicated in the Special Conditions in which:

- to approve it, with or without comments or reservations, or suspend such period and request additional information; or
- to reject it and request a new report.

If the Commission does not react within this period, the report shall be deemed to have been approved. Approval of the report does not imply recognition either of its regularity or of the authenticity, completeness or correctness of the declarations and information enclosed. Where the Commission requests a new report because the one previously submitted has been rejected, this shall be submitted within the period of time indicated in the Special Conditions. The new report shall likewise be subject to the above provisions.

Article II.5 General Provisions concerning Payments

II.5.1. Payments shall be deemed to have been made on the date on which the Commission's account is debited.

II.5.2. The payment periods referred to in Article I.4 may be suspended by the Commission at any time if it informs the Contractor that his payment request is not admissible, either because the amount is not due or because the necessary supporting documents have not been properly produced. In case of doubt on the eligibility of the expenditure indicated in the payment request, the Commission may suspend the time limit for payment for the purpose of further verification, including an on-the-spot check, in order to ascertain, prior to payment, that the expenditure is eligible.

The Commission shall notify the Contractor accordingly and set out the reasons for the suspension by registered letter with acknowledgment of receipt or equivalent. Suspension shall take effect from the date of dispatch of the letter. The remainder of the period referred to in Article I.4 shall begin to run again once the suspension has been lifted.

II.5.3. In the event of late payment the Contractor shall be entitled to interest, provided the calculated interest exceeds EUR 200. In case interest does not exceed EUR 200, the Contractor may claim interest within two months of receiving the payment. Interest shall be calculated at the rate applied by the European Central Bank to its most recent main refinancing operations ("the reference rate") plus seven percentage points ("the margin"). The reference rate in force on the first day of the month in which the payment is due shall apply. Such interest rate is published in the C series of the Official Journal of the European Union. Interest shall be payable for the period elapsing from the calendar day following expiry of the time limit for payment up to the day of payment. Suspension of payment by the Commission may not be deemed to constitute late payment.

Article II.6 Recovery

II.6.1. If total payments made exceed the amount actually due under the Contract or if recovery is justified in accordance with the terms of the Contract, the Contractor shall reimburse the appropriate amount in euro on receipt of the debit note, in the manner and within the time limits set by the Commission.

II.6.2. In the event of failure to pay by the deadline specified in the request for reimbursement, the sum due shall bear interest at the rate indicated in Article II.5.3. Interest shall be payable from the calendar day following the due date up to the calendar day on which the debt is repaid in full.

II.6.3. The Commission may, after informing the Contractor, recover amounts established as certain, of a fixed amount and due by offsetting, in cases where the Contractor also has a claim on the Communities that is certain, of a fixed amount and due. The Commission may also claim against the guarantee, where provided for.

Article II.7 Reimbursements

II.7.1. Where provided by the Special Conditions or by Annex I, the Commission shall reimburse the expenses which are directly connected with execution of the tasks on production of original supporting documents, including receipts and used tickets.

II.7.2. Travel and subsistence expenses shall be reimbursed, where appropriate, on the basis of the shortest itinerary.

II.7.3. Travel expenses shall be reimbursed as follows:

- (a) travel by air shall be reimbursed up to the maximum cost of an economy class ticket at the time of the reservation;
- (b) travel by boat or rail shall be reimbursed up to the maximum cost of a first class ticket;
- (c) travel by car shall be reimbursed at the rate of one first class rail ticket for the same journey and on the same day;
- (d) travel outside Community territory shall be reimbursed under the general conditions stated above provided the Commission has given its prior written agreement.

II.7.4. Subsistence expenses shall be reimbursed on the basis of a daily allowance as follows:

- (a) for journeys of less than 200 km (return trip) no subsistence allowance shall be payable;
- (b) daily subsistence allowance shall be payable only on receipt of a supporting document proving that the person concerned was present at the place of destination;

- (c) daily subsistence allowance shall take the form of a flat-rate payment to cover all subsistence expenses, including accommodation, meals, local transport, insurance and sundries;
- (d) daily subsistence allowance, where applicable, shall be reimbursed at the rate specified in Article I.3.3.

II.7.5. The cost of shipment of equipment or unaccompanied luggage shall be reimbursed provided the Commission has given prior written authorisation.

Article II.8 Ownership of the Results – Intellectual and Industrial Property

Any results or rights thereon, including copyright and other intellectual or industrial property rights, obtained in performance of the Contract, shall be owned solely by the Community, which may use, publish, assign or transfer them as it sees fit, without geographical or other limitation, except where industrial or intellectual property rights exist prior to the Contract being entered into.

Article II.9 Confidentiality

II.9.1. The Contractor undertakes to treat in the strictest confidence and not make use of or divulge to third parties any information or documents which are linked to performance of the Contract. The Contractor shall continue to be bound by this undertaking after completion of the tasks.

II.9.2. The Contractor shall obtain from each member of his staff, board and directors an undertaking that they will respect the confidentiality of any information which is linked, directly or indirectly, to execution of the tasks and that they will not divulge to third parties or use for their own benefit or that of any third party any document or information not available publicly, even after completion of the tasks.

Article II.10 Use, Distribution and Publication of Information

II.10.1. The Contractor shall authorise the Commission to process, use, distribute and publish, for whatever purpose, by whatever means and on whatever medium, any data contained in or relating to the Contract, in particular the identity of the Contractor, the subject matter, the duration, the amount paid and the reports. Where personal data is concerned, Article I.8 shall apply.

II.10.2. Unless otherwise provided by the Special Conditions, the Commission shall not be required to distribute or publish documents or information supplied in performance of the Contract. If it decides not to publish the documents or information supplied, the Contractor may not have them distributed or published elsewhere without prior written authorisation from the Commission.

II.10.3. Any distribution or publication of information relating to the Contract by the Contractor shall require prior written authorisation from the Commission and shall mention the amount paid by the Community. It shall state that the opinions expressed are those of the Contractor only and do not represent the Commission's official position.

II.10.4. The use of information obtained by the Contractor in the course of the Contract for purposes other than its performance shall be forbidden, unless the Commission has specifically given prior written authorisation to the contrary.

Article II. 11 Taxation

II.11.1. The Contractor shall have sole responsibility for compliance with the tax laws which apply to him. Failure to comply shall make the relevant invoices invalid.

II.11.2. The Contractor recognises that the Commission is, as a rule, exempt from all taxes and duties, including value added tax (VAT), pursuant to the provisions of Articles 3 and 4 of the Protocol on the Privileges and Immunities of the European Communities.

II.11.3. The Contractor shall accordingly complete the necessary formalities with the relevant authorities to ensure that the goods and services required for performance of the Contract are exempt from taxes and duties, including VAT.

II.11.4. Invoices presented by the Contractor shall indicate his place of taxation for VAT purposes and shall specify separately the amounts not including VAT and the amounts including VAT.

Article II.12 Force Majeure

II.12.1. Force majeure shall mean any unforeseeable and exceptional situation or event beyond the control of the contracting parties which prevents either of them from performing any of their obligations under the Contract, was not due to error or negligence on their part or on the part of a subcontractor, and could not have been avoided by the exercise of due diligence. Defects in equipment or material or delays in making it available, labour disputes, strikes or financial problems cannot be invoked as force majeure unless they stem directly from a relevant case of force majeure.

II.12.2. Without prejudice to the provisions of Article II.1.8, if either contracting party is faced with force majeure, it shall notify the other party without delay by registered letter with acknowledgment of receipt or equivalent, stating the nature, likely duration and foreseeable effects.

II.12.3. Neither contracting party shall be held in breach of its contractual obligations if it has been prevented from performing them by force majeure. Where the Contractor is unable to perform his contractual obligations owing to force majeure, he shall have the right to remuneration only for tasks actually executed.

II.12.4. The contracting parties shall take the necessary measures to reduce damage to a minimum.

Article II.13 Subcontracting

II.13.1. The Contractor shall not subcontract without prior written authorisation from the Commission nor cause the Contract to be performed in fact by third parties.

II.13.2. Even where the Commission authorises the Contractor to subcontract to third parties, he shall none the less remain bound by his obligations to the Commission under the Contract and shall bear exclusive liability for proper performance of the Contract.

II.13.3. The Contractor shall make sure that the subcontract does not affect rights and guarantees to which the Commission is entitled by virtue of the Contract, notably Article II.17.

Article II.14 Assignment

II.14.1. The Contractor shall not assign the rights and obligations arising from the Contract, in whole or in part, without prior written authorisation from the Commission.

II.14.2. In the absence of the authorisation referred to in 1 above, or in the event of failure to observe the terms thereof, assignment by the Contractor shall not be enforceable against and shall have no effect on the Commission.

Article II.15 Termination by the Commission

II.15.1. The Commission may terminate the Contract in the following circumstances:

- (a) where the Contractor is being wound up, is having his affairs administered by the courts, has entered into an arrangement with creditors, has suspended business activities, is the subject

- of proceedings concerning those matters, or is in any analogous situation arising from a similar procedure provided for in national legislation or regulations;
- (b) where the Contractor has been convicted of an offence concerning his professional conduct by a judgment which has the force of res judicata;
 - (c) where the Contractor has been guilty of grave professional misconduct proven by any means which the contracting authority can justify;
 - (d) where the Contractor has not fulfilled obligations relating to the payment of social security contributions or the payment of taxes in accordance with the legal provisions of the country in which he is established or with those of the country applicable to the Contract or those of the country where the Contract is to be performed;
 - (e) where the Commission seriously suspects the Contractor of fraud, corruption, involvement in a criminal organisation or any other illegal activity detrimental to the Communities' financial interests;
 - (f) where the Contractor is in breach of his obligations under Article II.3;
 - (g) where the Contractor was guilty of misrepresentation in supplying the information required by the Commission as a condition of participation in the Contract procedure or failed to supply this information;
 - (h) where a change in the Contractor's legal, financial, technical or organisational situation could, in the Commission's opinion, have a significant effect on the performance of the Contract;
 - (i) where execution of the tasks has not actually commenced within three months of the date foreseen, and the new date proposed, if any, is considered unacceptable by the Commission;
 - (j) where the Contractor is unable, through his own fault, to obtain any permit or licence required for performance of the Contract;
 - (k) where the Contractor, after receiving formal notice in writing to comply, specifying the nature of the alleged failure, and after being given the opportunity to remedy the failure within a reasonable period following receipt of the formal notice, remains in serious breach of his contractual obligations.

II.15.2. In case of force majeure, notified in accordance with Article II.12, either contracting party may terminate the Contract, where performance thereof cannot be ensured for a period corresponding to at least to one fifth of the period laid down in Article I.2.3.

II.15.3. Prior to termination under point e), h) or k), the Contractor shall be given the opportunity to submit his observations.

Termination shall take effect on the date on which a registered letter with acknowledgment of receipt terminating the Contract is received by the Contractor, or on any other date indicated in the letter of termination.

II.15.4. Consequences of termination

In the event of the Commission terminating the Contract in accordance with this article and without prejudice to any other measures provided for in the Contract, the Contractor shall waive any claim for consequential damages, including any loss of anticipated profits for uncompleted work. On receipt of the letter terminating the Contract, the Contractor shall take all appropriate measures to minimise costs, prevent damage, and cancel or reduce his commitments. He shall draw up the documents required by the Special Conditions for the tasks executed up to the date on which termination takes effect, within a period not exceeding sixty days from that date.

The Commission may claim compensation for any damage suffered and recover any sums paid to the Contractor under the Contract.

On termination the Commission may engage any other contractor to complete the services. The Commission shall be entitled to claim from the Contractor all extra costs incurred in making good and completing the services, without prejudice to any other rights or guarantees it has under the Contract.

Article II.16 Liquidated Damages

Should the Contractor fail to perform his obligations under the Contract within the time limits set by the Contract, then, without prejudice to the Contractor's actual or potential liability incurred in relation to the Contract or to the Commission's right to terminate the Contract, the Commission may decide to impose liquidated damages of 0.2% of the amount specified in Article I.3.1 per calendar day of delay. The Contractor may submit arguments against this decision within thirty days of notification by registered letter with acknowledgement of receipt or equivalent. In the absence of reaction on his part or of written withdrawal by the Commission within thirty days of the receipt of such arguments, the decision imposing the liquidated damages shall become enforceable. These liquidated damages shall not be imposed where there is provision for interest for late completion. The Commission and the Contractor expressly acknowledge and agree that any sums payable under this article are in the nature of liquidated damages and not penalties, and represent a reasonable estimate of fair compensation for the losses that may be reasonably anticipated from such failure to perform obligations.

ANNEX I Tender No. VT/...../... of

1. Background

1.1. PROGRESS introduction

The Social Agenda (2005-2010) has fixed as its overall strategic goal to promote more and better jobs and to offer equal opportunities for all. The realisation of the Social Agenda relies on a combination of instruments comprising EU legislation, the implementation of open methods of coordination in various policy fields and financial incentives such as the European Social Fund.

The Decision n°1672/2006 establishing a Community programme for employment and social solidarity – PROGRESS was adopted by the European Parliament and the Council on 24 October and published in the OJ on 15 November 2006.

PROGRESS aims at supporting the core functions of the European Community towards fulfilling its Treaty-delegated tasks and powers in its respective areas of competence in the employment and social sphere. PROGRESS mission is to strengthen the EU contribution in support of Member States' commitments and efforts to create more and better jobs and to build a more cohesive society. To that effect, PROGRESS will be instrumental in:

- providing analysis and policy advice on PROGRESS policy areas;
- monitoring and reporting on the implementation of EU legislation and policies in PROGRESS policy areas;
- promoting policy transfer, learning and support among Member States on EU objectives and priorities; and
- relaying the views of the stakeholders and society at large.

More specifically, PROGRESS will support:

- (1) the implementation of the European Employment Strategy (section 1);
- (2) the implementation of the open method of coordination in the field of social protection and inclusion (section 2);
- (3) the improvement of the working environment and conditions including health and safety at work and reconciling work and family life (section 3);
- (4) the effective implementation of the principle of non-discrimination and promotion of its mainstreaming in all EU policies (section 4);
- (5) the effective implementation of the principle of gender equality and promotion of its mainstreaming in all EU policies (section 5).

The present call for tenders is issued in the context of the implementation of the 2009 annual plan of work which is consultable at : <http://ec.europa.eu/progress>

1.2. Background information specific to this contract

The Chemical Agents Directive, 98/24/EC³ at Article 6 on specific protection and prevention measures, requires employers to ensure that the risk from a hazardous chemical agent to the safety and health of workers at work is eliminated or reduced to a minimum. The preferred approach to comply with this requirement is the principle substitution whereby the employer shall avoid the use of a hazardous chemical by replacing it with a chemical or process which, under its condition of use, is not hazardous or less hazardous to workers' safety and health.

It is only where the nature of the activity does not permit risk to be eliminated by substitution may the employer takes steps to ensure that the risk is reduced to a minimum by the application of protection and prevention measures consistent with the risk assessment carried out for the work activity.

The Carcinogens and Mutagens Directive, 2004/37/EC⁴, states that in the more specific case where the hazardous chemical meets the criteria for EU classification as either a category 1 or 2 carcinogen or mutagen the process of substitution must, where technically possible, be the approach to chemical risk management.

The classical approach to substitution removes the hazardous chemical at source. Other approaches to chemical risk management, such as ventilation control, personal protective equipment or administrative controls, reduce or eliminate the risk by interrupting the path of exposure between the hazardous chemical and the worker.

The principle of substitution is often associated not only with replacement of hazardous chemicals by the less hazardous but also by the reduction in the amount of chemical that is used or the method by which it is used, for example by changing its physical form or by introducing changes to the ways of working, including plant or process modification. In certain situations a substance that appears to present a reduced risk due to its intrinsic properties may in fact present an increased risk to workers due to the way in which it is used. Therefore, account should be taken not only of the intrinsic properties of a substance but also of its method of use. Such an approach reflects the wider risk management requirements of the Chemical Agents and Carcinogens & Mutagens Directives and is described in the "Non-binding Guidance on the Chemical Agents Directive" that was published by the Commission to assist Member States in the implementation of the Directive⁵. This contract will also address this aspect of substitution, and references to "substitution" in this tender specification should be construed accordingly.

Chemical substitution is a multi-attribute challenge with associated issues that are not always easy to compare for decision making purposes. It requires judgement to take account of workers health and safety protection, process performance (i.e. ability to achieve an equivalent functionality via technological or organisational measures), the ease and cost of introducing substitutes, environmental considerations and other factors in making a substitution choice. For this reason it may be difficult to use a highly structured and rigid checklist type approach to effective substitution but rather to develop a decision making framework which explicitly considers the worker health and safety elements, and other aspects, e.g. environmental, in a chemical substitution decision.

At present a range of approaches to substitution exist from ad hoc approaches to methods that are defined, structured and documented. Less sophisticated substitution approaches may be more suitable for smaller companies compared to larger better resourced organisations that have a high level of technical expertise.

Whilst it may be possible to agree that substitution is important for improving working conditions it has been pointed out that there is no clear objective information on how often it is used in practice. In response to a question put to employers on the practical implementation of the Chemical Agents Directive about what motivates employers to actively consider and introduce substitute substances, the economy (costs, liability, resources, competition) was most often identified as of the greatest significance. Similarly, investment risks or costs were often identified as the most significant barriers to substitution⁶.

This study seeks to address the above issues with a view to identifying practical approaches to further enhancing the effective application of the principle of substitution.

2. Purpose of the Contract

The purpose of the study is to identify and analyse information on the common and different aspects of substitution of chemicals at the workplace to better protect the health and safety of workers at work.

The study report should present an evaluation of existing approaches to chemical substitution in the EU Member States. It should identify incentives and barriers and the roles of the different stakeholders.

In addition, it should present a proposal for a decision making framework to be used as a practical tool to chemical substitution within EU workplaces.

Furthermore, the contractor will prepare a draft guidance document as described in section 3.

The study should take account of scientific, technical and socio-economic aspects of chemical substitution and should identify and report on relevant sector specific issues.

The tasks to be carried out are described in Section 3.

3. Tasks to be performed by the Contractor

(including description of output documents to be created by the Contractor and submitted to the Commission for its approval)

3.1 Emphasis

In carrying out the work the contractor shall give emphasis to the practical implementation of the principle of chemical substitution at the workplace for the purposes of protecting the health and safety of workers.

The contractor must submit a methodology that will demonstrate how he will carry out this work, including the way he will make contact and gather information from a number of key players both at company and individual level. This should include, for example, contacting/surveying small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) but also large enterprises and enterprises from a broad range of industry sectors, trade associations, occupational safety and health professionals, individual employees and their representatives such as trade unions.

⁶ CADImple study, first interim report August 2008 (not published publicly).

The contractor should identify successes and challenges regarding the implementation of the principle of substitution. The contractor, in cases where he identifies challenges relating to the practical application of substitution, may make suggestions on how these challenges could be overcome. Similarly, where successes are identified in one specific area, then suggestions on how to encourage a broader utilisation of these successful approaches should be included in the report.

The report and draft guidance document should include examples of real situations, including case studies, to support the observations and remarks presented by the contractor. Where possible, the examples chosen should include an assessment, in broad terms, of the administrative and technical burden and costs of meeting the requirements of the principle of substitution.

The report shall include any suggestions and recommendations made, both by employers (including undertakings and bodies in the public sector), occupational safety and health professionals, and by workers and/or their representatives, which could improve the practical implementation of the principle of substitution.

3.2 Outcome

The outcome shall be the preparation by the contractor of a detailed report and a separate draft guidance publication, supported by appropriate case studies, of approximately 50 pages length, to be submitted to the Commission.

The target audience for the guidance document are small and medium sized organisations, including those with limited technical knowledge on the health and safety risks associated with the use of chemicals at the work.

The report and draft guidance publication shall address all the items under section 3 of this tender specification and it shall assist the Commission in deciding what action may be necessary to ensure that the principle of substitution can be realised in practice in workplaces at EU level.

The report and draft guidance document should include and apply well justified responses to the tasks of this contract.

In all cases, special attention must be given to SMEs and to micro-sized organisations. The study must take account of any particularities relating to the age or sex of workers or other broad grouping of worker.

3.3 Description of tasks

The contractor shall carry out the following tasks:

3.3.1 Identify and evaluate the current state of play concerning the practical application of chemical substitution in workplaces at EU level. This should include identifying and evaluating the needs of different stakeholders including employers, workers, occupational safety and health professionals, suppliers etc. to enhance the practical application of the substitution principle.

3.3.2 Identify, describe and evaluate any approaches, or models, that exist at national or EU level. The evaluation should include an assessment of the advantages, challenges and effectiveness of these approaches/models and an analysis of their suitability for developing a European level framework for substitution decisions in enterprises. An important criterion for the suitability is thereby that these approaches allow for a clear and consistent consideration of the relative health and safety attributes of the existing and proposed substitute chemicals.

- 3.3.3 Based on the evaluation of existing approaches the contractors are expected to develop a clear argumentation, to describe whether a common approach to substitution can be developed at EU level. This should include an evaluation of the various possible approaches that may include generic, substance specific, employment sector specific approaches or other approaches that are identified as relevant for the purposes of this study.
- 3.3.4 Present a number of duly justified practical steps, to be included in a separate draft guidance document, to be used as a tool to enable employers, and workers, to apply the principle of chemical substitution in EU workplaces. This guidance document will be used to communicate and promote good practice in introducing effective chemical substitution and will include supporting case studies. It is expected that the guidance document will be approximately 50 pages in length.
- 3.3.5 Identify practical examples of effective substitution and present an appropriate number of relevant case studies. Describe the methodology to be used to select the most appropriate case studies that will be included in the draft guidance document.
- 3.3.6 Identify how chemical substitution decisions are currently made by identifying the practical steps of the substitution process and the key criteria that need to be taken into account when seeking to identify, evaluate and introduce a substitute chemical or process.
- 3.3.7 Focus on the successes and challenges of the practical implementation of substitution. This should include identifying and evaluating these successes and challenges and the contribution to this process from the key stakeholders. Account should be taken of any unforeseen positive or negative consequences resulting from the practical application of chemical substitution,
- 3.3.8 Address substitution in the situation when an alternative substance is used and when the same substance may be used but in a different way (e.g. change of physical form of the substance), or where process modifications may be introduced.
- 3.3.9 Identify and evaluate the impact of applying the principle of substitution on work organisation and competitiveness of employers, including small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) and micro-sized organisations. Specific consideration should be given to evaluating the environmental dimension of substitution in implementing chemical substitution for occupational safety and health purposes.
- 3.3.10 Identify and present a list of chemicals for which effective substitutes have been identified and report on what criteria have been used to identify them and assess their acceptability. Provide information on whether the practical implementation of these substitute substances, or process modifications, have been effective or whether difficulties have subsequently been identified that have resulted in the expected benefits not being fully realised. For example this may include the introduction of other occupational risks, or affects on the environment, or on the technical performance of the substitute substance etc.

- 3.3.11 Evaluate whether specific approaches can be recommended for particular groups of chemicals (e.g. solvents) or specific employment sectors or company size (e.g. SMEs).
- 3.3.12 Identify and evaluate what motivates an employer to actively consider and introduce the use of substitute substances or processes. Describe the considerations at company level which influence substitution policy, including, for example, technical feasibility, investment costs, the willingness to change processes and working procedures. This includes identifying what information is known about the costs of substitution.
- 3.3.13 Identify and evaluate the degree of participation of workers and their representatives in the implementation of substitution policies at workplace level. Identify how employers can ensure that workers are involved in the process of identifying and using substitute chemicals.
- 3.3.14 Identify what key factors influence substitution decisions. For example, whether substitution is supplier or user driven or whether other key influencing factors can be identified. These factors may include legislation, enforcement, economic reasons (e.g. change of price relationship between substances), availability of new technology, potential for improving the product quality, public opinion etc. All the identified influencing factors should be evaluated.

3.4. Guide to how the activities will be carried out

The PROGRESS Programme aimed at promoting gender mainstreaming in all its policy sections and commissioned or supported activities. Consequently, the Contractor will take the necessary steps to ensure that:

- Gender equality issues are taken into account when relevant for the drafting of the technical offer by paying attention to the situation and needs of women and men;
- Implementation of the requested tasks includes a gender perspective by considering systematically women and men dimension.
- Performance monitoring includes the collection and gathering of data disaggregated by sex when needed.
- Its proposed team and/or staff respects the gender balance at all levels.

Equally, needs of disabled people shall be duly acknowledged and met while executing the requested service. This will in particular entail that where the Contractor organises training sessions, conference, issues publications or develops dedicated websites, people with disabilities have equal access to the facilities or the services provided.

Finally, the Contracting Authority encourages the Contractor to promote equal employment opportunities for all its staff and team. This entails that the Contractor shall foster an appropriate mix of people, whatever their ethnic origin, religions, age, and ability.

The Contractor will be required to detail in its activity report accompanying the request for the final instalment the steps and achievements it made towards meeting these contractual provisions.

4. Expertise required ⁷

See Annex IV.

Specific requirements other than those mentioned in Annex IV

The contractor should have a proven capability to carry out the tasks related to the identification and evaluation of the principle of chemical substitution in the field of occupational safety and health at EU level. This should be based on a multi-disciplinary staff and/or access to external experts on a wide range of relevant disciplines, for example, occupational health and safety, occupational hygiene, occupational medicine, toxicology, epidemiology, chemistry and workplace chemical risk assessment and management and economics.

The guidance document must be provided in paper form and in electronic form, interactive enough so that users – regardless of their technical skills – can easily access the required information.

NB:

The draft final report and the final report must include a brief summary in English of the main results obtained. A one-page presentation of the key points of the results must accompany the summary. These key points should be concise, clear and easy to understand. They must be drafted in English, French and German. Other Community languages will be appreciated, but are not compulsory.

The detailed methodology and work plan, together with the various reports and draft reports referred to in this section, must be submitted to the European Commission (Unit EMPL F/4) both on paper (in triplicate) and in a widely-used electronic format (CD-ROM or DVD). 1. VAT exemption level

The European Commission benefits of a direct exemption of VAT for all invoices of EUR 123.95 and more.

2. Use of form 15.10

To allow the Contractor to justify to the fiscal authorities an invoicing to the European Commission using a 0% VAT rate (direct exemption) or to enable the benefit of the exemption by reimbursement, it is necessary to use the form 15.10.

These forms have recently been up-dated, and the new versions are the only ones to remain in official use. They entered into force on 01.04.1997, with a new ref. XXI/03278 – 01.04.1997.

See attached document: 2 pages and 1 page of explanatory notes.

3. Signature of the form 15.10 – Delegation of signature

The forms must normally be signed by the fiscal authorities of Belgium. However, a delegation of signature has been awarded by the Belgium authorities to the European Commission – ref. ET 76430 of 22.12.1992 (this ref. No. should be inserted in box 7 of new form 15.10). The Commission being represented for the present Contract by Costas CONSTANTINOU, Head of Unit - EMPL/F/4 of Employment, Social Affairs and Equal Opportunities DG, form 15.10 will therefore be signed by the latter.

4. Invoicing the Commission

An invoice will be made for each payment related to the present Contract. The applied VAT rate and amount shall be specified. Concerning the direct VAT exemption or VAT exemption by the way of reimbursement, the invoice shall bear all the necessary mentions.
