

ANNEX 6 "The Vilnius Definition of Sport" Version 1.1

DEFINITIONS

Statistical definition of sport:	Corresponds with the current NACE category 92.6 ("sporting activities").
Narrow definition of sport:	All products and services which are necessary as inputs for (doing) sport ("to produce sport as an output").
Broad definition of sport:	Statistical definition + narrow definition + all products and services which have a (direct or indirect) relation to any sport activity but without being necessary to do sport ("which draw upon sport as an input").

SET OF RULES

1	Goods and services which are part of the statistical and narrow definitions of sport are also part of the broader definition of sport. The broader definition of sport will be the focus of the Working Group Sport & Economics.
2	Multipurpose infrastructure and multipurpose durable goods which are not part of the statistical definition of sport (NACE 92.6) will be excluded, e.g. roads, cars, TV sets, play stations. Dedicated infrastructure (e.g. NACE 45.23.21/45.23.22) will be included.
3	To avoid double counting and to ensure comprehensiveness, correspondence will be established between the manufacturing sections and the trade/retailing sections (categories 51-52) of the table. Sections 51 and 52 are only relevant in terms of trade margins.
4	Data will be collected on the basis of a common agreement on which NACE and CPA categories to include. However, to take account of the country-specific sport landscape, additional CPA categories may exceptionally be included over and above the basic list agreed in the Working Group Sport & Economics.
5	In general, only final expenditure (incl. capital expenditure) will be taken into account, and not intermediate expenditure. Reference will be made to intermediate demand only if it constitutes sizeable input for professional sport. In a similar industrial services, where they are not sport-specific, will not be considered.
