Additional Information

Activity Report

The group operates in accordance with standard Commission Rules on Expert Groups. It is chaired by Mr. Ignacio Garcia-Bercero, the EU's chief negotiator on the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP), and meets approximately once every two months, in between negotiating rounds. Experts from outside the group may be invited to join on ad-hoc basis. EU negotiators will give frank explanations and updates on progress to the group. Relevant documents including meeting reports are available on the website linked below.

Selection Procedure (members)

Each expert has been appointed to represent a common interest shared by stakeholders in a particular area, rather than to represent an individual, a company or an organisation. This is because the group needs to reflect the interests of the major segments of society whilst remaining small enough to work efficiently. Each expert enjoys broad competence and experience in their fields of interest, as well as long-standing expertise on EU trade policy or international regulatory policies. Together, the members represent a balance between business and non-business interests, including consumer interests, labour law, and other civil society interests, in particular public health and the environment.
