

Factsheet on 2014-2020 Rural Development Programme Principado de Asturias

The Rural Development Programme (RDP) for Principado de Asturias was formally adopted by the European Commission on 03 August 2015, outlining Principado de Asturias's priorities for using the € 488 million of public money that is available for the 7-year period 2014-2020 (€ 325 million from the EU budget, and € 163 million of national co-funding).

The RDP for Principado de Asturias focuses on restoring, preserving and enhancing of ecosystems related to agriculture and forestry and it plans to have 47% of farmland come under management contract to improve biodiversity. In order to improve the competitiveness of the farm sector, 2 100 farmers will get support to restructure and modernise their farms and 450 young farmers will get support to launch their businesses. More than 26% of the rural population will benefit from improved services and infrastructures and will be covered by LEADER local development strategies which are expected to create around 200 new jobs.

Support for Rural Development is the 2nd Pillar of the Common Agricultural Policy, providing Member States with an envelope of EU funding to manage nationally or regionally under multi-annual, co-funded programmes. In total, 118 programmes are foreseen in all 28 Member States. The new RD Regulation for the period 2014-2020 addresses six economic, environmental and social priorities, and programmes contain clear targets setting out what is to be achieved. Moreover, in order to coordinate actions better and maximise synergies with the other European Structural & Investment Funds (ESIF), a Partnership Agreement has been agreed with each Member State highlighting its broad strategy for EU-funded structural investment.

This document provides a brief overview of how the challenges and opportunities Principado de Asturias is facing are addressed by the RDP. In the annex, a table indicates the priorities and focus areas each with their specific targets, and their allocated budgets.

1. SITUATION AND KEY CHALLENGES

In Spain rural development is implemented through 18 separate RDPs – one at national level and 17 regional RDPs. However, common elements to the programmes are presented in a national framework. In addition, the National Rural Network ("programme" deleted) provides the funding for the networking of rural development actors in Spain.

Principado de Asturias covers an area of 10 603 km² and is home to 1.1 million people. The centre of the region is mainly urban with a concentration of the population while the rest is rural and undergoing depopulation. Of the total area, farmland covers 16.2 % and forestry 72.2 %.

Livestock is by far the most important agricultural sector in the region. With a total of 17 614 livestock farms, 85% are oriented to meat production and 15% to milk production of high quality standards. Forest activity (social, economic and environmental value), increasing economic diversification and privileged natural and cultural heritage are other strengths of this region.

Weaknesses include an unemployment rate of 10.5 % (2012), the ageing and masculinization of the rural population which, coupled with young people leaving for urban areas, may lead to land abandonment. This is considered a large problem in the region. In addition, other weaknesses include the fact that the farm sector is dominated by small livestock farms (49,7% of farms have less than 5 ha), with no or low qualified employees as well as the fact that Principado de Asturias is a very mountainous region which makes mechanisation of agriculture and forestry difficult.

2. HOW THE PRINCIPADO DE ASTURIAS'S RDP WILL ADDRESS THESE CHALLENGES

In addressing these challenges, Principado de Asturias's RDP will fund action under all Rural Development priorities – with a particular emphasis on enhancing farm viability and competitiveness of all types of agriculture and promoting innovative farm technologies and the sustainable management of forests as well as restoring, preserving and enhancing of ecosystems related to agriculture and forestry. The focus of each priority is explained briefly below.

Knowledge transfer and innovation in agriculture, forestry and rural areas

There will be support for 33 cooperation projects in the framework of the European Innovation Partnership for Agricultural Productivity and Sustainability.

Competitiveness of agri sector and sustainable forestry

Besides previously mentioned support for cooperation projects, some 9 % of farms will receive funding for investments focused on restructuring and modernisation. Nearly 2 % of farms will receive support for young farmers to set up their businesses.

Food chain organisation, including processing and marketing of agricultural products, animal welfare and risk management in agriculture

Under this priority, 220 agro-industries will receive funding for investments in processing and marketing.

Restoring, preserving and enhancing ecosystems related to agriculture and forestry

Around 21.5 % of the allocated amount will be used for area-based payments to farmers for using environment/climate friendly management practices, including organic farming. The RDP will support the conversion or maintenance of organic farming on 40 000 hectares. More than 47% of farmland will come under management contracts to improve biodiversity, water management and soil erosion.

Resource efficiency and climate

Support allocated under this priority will mainly facilitate investments in afforestation and establishment of agroforestry systems. 300 ha will get support for establishment and maintenance of agro-forestry systems.

Social inclusion and local development in rural areas

The programme will fund Local Development Strategies (LDS) drawn up and implemented by Local Action Groups (LAGs) under the LEADER approach. More than 26% of the rural population will be affected by these local initiatives which will also create around 200 new jobs.
