

eTranslation

Connecting Europe

eTranslation, supported by the Connecting Europe Facility (CEF), helps public administrations exchange information across languages in the EU, Iceland and Norway.

eTranslation can be used via a website to translate documents and text snippets or be integrated into digital services.

Public administrations, citizens and businesses in the EU will thus be able to benefit from digital services in the language of their choice.

How to Connect?

With your official email address:

- Create an "EU Login" account.
www.webgate.ec.europa.eu/cas/eim/external/register.cgi
- Send a request to help@cefat-tools-services.eu with your "EU login" credentials, certifying that you are a civil servant working in a public administration from EU, Iceland or Norway.

Who already uses it?

Civil servants from the European Commission use this service, automatically translating more than 3 Mio pages per year.

How can I help to improve the machine translation service?

The more translations fed into the system, the better the translations get.

Through ELRC, the European Language Resource Coordination initiative, the Commission is looking for language resource holders who are willing and able to contribute data to improving the translation engines.

www.ec.europa.eu/cefdigital/wiki/display/CE

eTranslation website for civil servants of public administrations across EU, Iceland and Norway

If you are a civil servant working in a public administration from EU, Iceland or Norway, you are entitled to use the eTranslation website to request automatic translations to and from any of the 24 official languages, Icelandic and Norwegian.

Benefits

High Quality Machine Translation:

Draws on decades worth of work by EU translators. It offers excellent results for EU policy related and legal documents

Confidential and secure:

Passes the Intellectual Property Rights of the translation back to the owner of the original text submitted for translation

Quality of Service:

Fast translation into multiple languages at once

Formats:

Compatible with a large variety of formats (doc, pdf, jpg...)

Find out more:
ec.europa.eu/cefdigital/eTranslation

Contact us at:
help@cefat-tools-services.eu

eTranslation

Connecting Europe

eTranslation, supported by the Connecting Europe Facility (CEF), helps public administrations exchange information across languages in the EU, Iceland and Norway.

eTranslation can be used via a website to translate documents and text snippets or be integrated into digital services.

Public administrations, citizens and businesses in the EU will thus be able to benefit from digital services in the language of their choice.

How?

With your official email address:

- Define requirements - for each system and service, identify translation requirements e.g. quantities, languages,...
- Send a request (using your official email address) describing your use case to help@cefat-tools-services.eu

Who already uses it?

Over 50 services are connected to eTranslation, including the Online Dispute Resolution system (ODR), the European Employment and Social Security Information System (EESSI), the European Open Data Portal, the Internal Market Information system (IMI) and legal databases open to the public such as EUR-Lex and N-Lex.

How can I help to improve the machine translation service?

The more translations fed into the system, the better the translations get.

Through ELRC, the European Language Resource Coordination initiative, the Commission is looking for language resource holders who are willing and able to contribute data to improving the translation engines.

www.ec.europa.eu/cefdigital/wiki/display/CEFDIGITAL/How+to+contribute+language+resources

Integrated machine translation

Integrate eTranslation into digital services

The eTranslation multilingual service is available to all EU, Iceland and Norwegian public administrations, to provide multilingual support in the information systems workflow or online services to and from any of the 24 EU official languages, Icelandic and Norwegian.

Benefits

High Quality Machine Translation:

Draws on decades worth of work by EU translators. It offers excellent results for EU policy related and legal documents

Confidential and secure:

Passes the Intellectual Property Rights of the translation back to the owner of the original text submitted for translation

Quality of Service:

Fast translation into multiple languages at once

Formats:

Compatible with a large variety of formats (doc, pdf, jpg...)

Funding

CEF grant funding available to support cross-border implementation

Find out more:
ec.europa.eu/cefdigital/eTranslation

Contact us at:
help@cefat-tools-services.eu