

Promoting lifestyle medicine

Competencies and education of health professionals in the EU today

Luxembourg
13 February 2020

Agenda

08.30 - 09.00	Coffee & registration
09.00 - 09.15	Opening and background by the European Commission
09.15 - 09.55	Dr. Kristiina Patja Director, Pro Medico, Association for Medical Continuous Professional Development, Finland Mapping of existing initiatives in the EU and inventory of good practices
09.55 - 10.20	Tomas Vaiciunas Lithuanian University of Health Sciences, Lithuania New master on lifestyle medicine
10.20 - 11.00	Presentation of initiatives and projects within the field of education and health promotion and disease prevention: Marike Klugkist Vice-president of the foundation Student&Lifestyle, the Netherlands A student's perspective on lifestyle medicine Livia Royle Eduqual, United Kingdom Paediatric Education Toolkit focusing on enhancing public health learning in postgraduate education
11.00 - 11.30	Coffee break
11.30 - 12.30	Discussion round in groups with moderator What are the needs, barriers, potential solutions (what works) to promote health promotion in health care settings (including training in health promotion and disease prevention)?
12.30 - 13.30	Lunch
13.30 - 14.00	Summary of the results and conclusions of the discussion round
14.00 - 15.00	The way forward Interview with Marcus Guardian (Programme manager of the EUnetHTA Joint Action, the Netherlands): How to create a solid base and facilitate an increase in the commitment to promote and support health promotion and disease prevention, including lifestyle medicine, by medical faculties and professional associations?
15.00 - 15.45	Conclusions and further steps for concrete actions
15.45 - 16.30	Social drinks

Promoting lifestyle medicine

Competencies and education of health professionals in the EU today

*Luxembourg
13 February 2020*