

Design for Safety: Mechanical Hazards Training Seminar

12 September 2017

A Trilateral seminar with the participation of the US Consumer Product Safety Commission, the Chinese authority AQSIQ and the European Commission was held in Guangzhou, China, on 12 September 2017.

The seminar informed Chinese product manufacturers as well as designers and testing houses on EU and US product safety requirements.

In particular the European Commission's DG Justice and Consumers presented on:

- the EU's product safety legislative framework
- the Rapid Alert System for dangerous non-food products

An EU expert presented on eliminating mechanical hazards in design and on some existing requirements to prevent mechanical hazards in the EU.