The Maltese Communications Authority ^[2] launched recently two new strategies to tackle digital exclusion and to bring more businesses online.

The strategies called "Networked society" ^[3] and "Networked Enterprise" ^[4] are promoting the idea that every Maltese citizen should have access to ICTs, and to skills required, to fully participate in the "Networked Society". The strategies cover the period 2012-2015.

In April 2012, Malta appointed Mr. Phillip Micallef as Digital Champion.
