Puzzled by Policy: Helping Citizens be part of the EU

Puzzled by Policy reduces the complexity of decision making within the EU and reconnects citizens with politics and policymaking by combining engaging eParticipation tools with new widget technologies to bring policymaking on the hot topic of immigration and migration 'to the people' in a manner that is both fun and engaging.

'The division between institutions and politics on one hand and citizens on another is deepening. Opportunities like PbP (Puzzled by Policy) for us as members of the European Parliament to communicate through social media and other electronic tools are very useful.'

Tanja Fajon, Progressive Alliance of Socialists and Democrats, European

Puzzled by Policy's clever quiz and debate structure lets users know where they stand on an issue and gives policy makers their views at a glance.
