Co-creating ideas for future policies at Futurium

Futurium is an online platform where citizens are invited to 'co-create' ideas for future EU policies. Imagine the world in 2050, and imagine the policy landscape needed to bring this vision to reality. If you fancy yourself as a futurist or simply want a say in shaping a better Europe and a better world, the Futurium team is keen to hear from you. Announce a brainstorming event on life in 2050, sign up as a 'curator' or moderator for future workshops or debates about future policy-making, or simply follow the community threads on Futurium ... "One platform. Your voices. Our futures".
