CIRRUS Workshop

CIRRUS will hold its second workshop in conjunction with The 37th Annual International Computer Software & Applications Conference Kyoto, Japan July 22-26, 2013. The Workshop is aimed at identifying the status of cloud security certification and standardisation in different countries and world regions and will set a list of priorities from an international convergence point of view. The CIRRUS project supports the European Commission, ETSI and ENISA in the implementation of the European Cloud Strategy, but is also expected to link with bodies and institutions outside Europe and to have an impact globally. The workshop will feature presentations from subject matter experts and will generate open and interactive discussions between the participants.
