

Digital Single Market

Reports and studies 30 September 2013

Study on exchange of good practices in eHealth (2008)

The "Good eHealth" study (published March 2008) aims to advance the implementation of a comprehensive and continuous approach to dissemination and transfer of learning experiences. The study team seeks to identify the benefits deriving from specific good practice examples, to develop stronger approaches to sharing good practices, and to stimulate faster uptake of new eHealth systems and services.

[1]

Read more

Monthly Focus - February 2008 [2]

Read full text [3]

Share this page

Source URL: <https://ec.europa.eu/digital-single-market/en/news/study-exchange-good-practices-ehealth-2008>

Links

[1] https://ec.europa.eu/digital-single-market/sites/digital-agenda/files/newsroom/knowledge-base_5062.jpg

[2] http://preprod.europa.cnect.cec.eu.int/information_society/activities/health/docs/monthly_focus/200802good-ehealth.pdf

[3] <http://www.good-ehealth.org/index.php>