

Digital Single Market

Projects story 13 February 2014

Sensors bringing the world to life

Visitors to Santander in Spain can see tourist attractions, public parks and nearby shops tagged in real time if they look through the camera of their smart phones. It's thanks to a new iteration of the internet that incorporates the physical world, creating an augmented reality of web-connected devices and sensors called the 'Internet of Things'.

Read full text ^[1]

Contact

^[2]

Share this page

Source URL: <https://ec.europa.eu/digital-single-market/en/news/sensors-bringing-world-life>

Links

[1] http://www.horizon-magazine.eu/article/sensors-bringing-world-life_en.html

[2] <mailto:>