Technology, Care and Ageing: Enhancing Independence

Events

08/04/2014 to 09/04/2014

Leeds, UK

At this conference, the results of AKTIVE, a three-year research project funded by the Technology Strategy Board's Assisted Living Innovation Platform scheme, will be presented together with other national and international research and industry experience from over 50 contributors.

AKTIVE has focused on generating better knowledge about the impacts that telecare has upon the everyday lives of older people prone to falls and cognitive impairment, and the implications of future telecare design, adoption, and delivery models for the ageing UK population.
